Woman Doomed by Rare Disease Hurries for Life to Mayo Clinic

By TONY DICKSON
Most people don't look forward to operations, but pretty 32-year-old Jacqueline Rose Schwabe definitely does.
Because for her it means a cure to physical and financial difficulties which have beset her family the past two years, which two operations at St.

Joseph's here since last July have failed to locate.
In her attractive little home at 1923 Quamichan Street, "Jackie," as she prefers to be called, today dangled her young-est on her knee—another Jackie, 16 months old—and said "I was amazed. People have been wonderful."

PRISONERS STAGE RIOT AT FORT SASKATCHEWAN

EDMONTON (CP)—A riot was reported to have broken out today in the provincial jail at Fort Saskatchewan, 20 miles northeast of Edmonton.
About six cars of RCMP officers carrying tear gas and ammunition were sent to the jail from Edmonton.
H. J. Wilson, deputy attorney-general, confirmed that there was a riot but said he had meagre details.
He said there was a fire today in the jail's bakery and added he "imagined" it was set deliberately. The jail warden refused to answer telephone queries. RCMP headquarters also refused to give details.

Farmers Ask Ottawa For Higher Prices

200,000-Member Farm Union Council Calls For Two-Price System to Aid Dented Revenues

OTTAWA (CP)—The 200,000-member Inter-provincial Farm Union Council today called on the government to create a two-price system for Canada's farm products adjusting domestic prices on the basis of changes in living costs.

The council, headed by chairman J. L. Phelps, said in a cabinet submission the proposal may increase consumer prices, but argued that it would eliminate most of Canada's urban unemployment. Organized labor now was completely behind the plan, it said.

Farmers, whose net income had dropped by almost $1,000,000 in the last three years would get millions of dollars in new purchasing power.

The two-price system—one for domestic buyers linked to living costs, another for foreign buyers based on supply and demand and both hooked to extensive federal price supports—has been aired in previous council meetings with the cabinet. But there is a difference now, said the council.

On previous occasions, it said, Prime Minister St. Laurent said the idea was fine in theory, but that it would be opposed by organized labor since it would raise consumer prices.

"We are pleased to report that since that time we have gained the support of Canadian labor unions for this principle. They themselves made a similar proposal in a recent submission to this government. Labor unions

Costa Rican Rebels Flee

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (UP)—Rebels in northwestern Costa Rica were reported today retreating toward Nicaragua.

Official announcements said several skirmishes during the past 24 hours increased the toll of the nine-day revolt to 55 dead and 139 injured.

Agree with farm unions that unless farmers enjoy fair and adequate incomes, wage earners are in danger of losing their jobs or having their take-home pay reduced.

COMPLETE ANSWER

"We believe that organized labor's present attitude provides a complete answer to the only objection raised by the prime minister to our farm price policy proposal. We take it, therefore, that the way now is open for the government to take appropriate action without further delay."

The council delegation was to meet with a cabinet group in Agriculture Minister Gardiner's office.

Eisenhower Wants UN To End China Fighting

President Would Like Cease-Fire Arranged

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he would like to see the United Nations try to arrange a cease fire between the Chinese Nationalists and Red China's attacking forces.

The president told a press conference that he does not know whether the UN would be able to do anything about halting the shooting, but he said he would like to see it use its good offices to seek a cease fire.

The president's remarks came atop a statement by Secretary of State Dulles Tuesday that the United States would offer no objections to the United Nations' seeking a cease fire. Dulles' statement created a sensation in Formosa, stronghold of the Chinese Nationalists.

At the beginning of the conference Eisenhower discussed the military significance of the capture of Nationalist-held Hsiangshan, about eight miles northwest of the Tachen group by Communist amphibious forces.

He said that no military authority had rated this small island, or indeed the Tachens themselves, as an essential part of the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores. He noted that the United States is committed to the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores by the mutual security treaty which has been sent to the Senate for ratification.

The president said the Tachen Islands are of value as an outpost and an observation post but they are not a vital element, as the United States sees it, in the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores.

Moos said Chinese Reds hurled a 200-plane raid—haviest of the civil war—against the vital Tachen Islands today in a possible prelude to invasion. The Nationalist warplanes struck back with "punitive attacks" on Communist armed vessels along the southeast China coast and in the Amoy and Swatow areas. The defense ministry said heavy losses were inflicted. The Nationalists called the attacks a retaliatory measure against the "indiscriminate bombing" of the Tachens.

Eight miles north of the Tachens, the ministry said, guerrillas "fighting in pools of blood" were still resisting the Communist invasion of tiny Yikiangshan island.

U.K. To Concentrate On Airpower Defense

Will Turn Back on Traditional Sea Power; Ground Forces to Get New Atomic Age Look

LONDON (UP)—Britain will turn its back on centuries of traditional naval power next month and acknowledge air power as its first line of defense, official sources said today.

The sources said the Royal Air Force, pioneer of war in the skies, at last will be recognized as the main element of defense in the 1955-56 arms blueprint due to be published in February.

The annual defense white paper will follow the lead of the United States and Britain's NATO partners in giving priority to air power and tactical atomic bombs, the sources said.

Informed sources also said Britain's far-flung ground forces will get an atomic age new look. Large contingents will come home from overseas positions in Malaya and Kenya and Egypt to form a central strategic reserve, a "riot squad" ready to roll into any global trouble spot.

The plan, to be completed by mid-February, covers a £1,600,000 ($4,400,000) arms outlay for 1955. It is based on greater reliance on air power, latest-type weapons and greater mobility of troops.

(President Eisenhower's budget presented Monday estimated expenditures for the air force at $15.6 billion, or $400 million more than this year, highest in peace-time history.)

'NO ONE CAN TALK YOU OUT OF IT'—'ABSOLUTELY NOT'

Pleas of Daughter, 16, Ignored By Leader of Boston Prison Siege

BOSTON (UP)—A pretty 16-year-old girl pleaded in vain today with her father and three other besieged convicts to surrender themselves and 11 hostages at Massachusetts state prison.

The girl, Toby Green, talked through a window with her bank robber father, Theodore (Teddy) Green, leader of the insurgent convicts.

Her appeal, the second in 14 hours, lasted a few minutes.

Toby, a brilliant high school student, previously talked Sunday night by telephone with her father. That time, like today, he refused to give up.

The Boston Post reported the conversation in a copyrighted story. Toby made the call from the newspaper's office. The following parts of the conversation were reported by the Post:

Toby—What are you doing?
Green—Just sitting around. The boys are playing cards, listening to the radio and things like that—having a lovely time!

Toby—Can I come to talk to you?

Green—No, honey, because it is a little rough situation now. You have been through enough, poor little girl.

Toby—I want to see you.

Green—I know, honey, but it isn't right. You will have me break down and crying.

Toby—And no one can talk you out of it?

Green—Absolutely not.

A tank was pressed into service today in an effort to break up the revolt that has lasted more than 30 hours.

State public safety commissioner Otis M. Whitney, head of the state police, said the tank would be "held in readiness until things start humming." He did not elaborate.

Green, a notorious bank robber and escape artist, told Warden John J. O'Brien that "for every shot fired at us, for every tear gas bomb, one of your screws (guards) or an inmate dies!"

Randall Moves To Ensure May Racing

Rezoning Bid Set for Sandown

Colwood Park Association will make application to the North Saanich Zoning Board of Appeal "as soon as practical" to rezone Sandown Park, near Sidney, for horse racing and an agricultural fair.

W. A. Randall, Vancouver representative of the association, said today he still hopes to have a racing meet under way by May 21.

The zoning board Tuesday refused the association's application to build a grandstand and other buildings on the grounds that the plans for the property were not "rural use."

Procedure following receipt by the zoning board of the application to rezone calls for a public meeting, when interested parties can state their views on the application. The board then makes its own decision.

Mr. Randall asked the board Monday to sanction his plans, saying he expected the fair could be considered rural use of property and that the permit could be granted immediately.

"The only inconvenience this new development will cause will be delay—assuming that our application is successful," Mr. Randall said. "With luck we will make good on our original plan to start May 21."

He said a 1,400-seat grandstand and other buildings are the chief needs at the site, on the west side of the Patricia Bay Highway, a few hundred yards north of the airport. With the exception of a bit of drainage the track is in shape, he said.

Hostile Freedomites Keep RCMP on Edge

Doukhobor Settlement of Krestova Bitter After Police Seize 40 School-Age Children

(Compiled from B.U.P. CP Dispatches)
KRESTOVA, B.C.—Royal Canadian Mounted Police kept a close watch on this embittered Doukhobor settlement today after 40 school-age children were routed from their homes Tuesday and taken into custody for forced school attendance.

Some 50 Royal Canadian Mounted Police and welfare workers raided the small ramshackle settlement at dawn and captured the children, who ranged in age from seven to 12.

The children were bundled into waiting school buses and taken to New Denver, 50 miles away, where they will be forced to attend school.

The round-up was the first big raid on this mountain-top settlement of the radical Russian religious Sons of Freedom sect and the largest ever since the drive began to force the children into school.

RCMP from Nelson, 20 miles away, were keeping a close watch on the community, considered the "capital" of the Freedomites, today for a possible outbreak of arson or nude parading in protest against the seizures.

(In Victoria, Attorney-General Robert Bonner said the raid was just a continuation of the government's policy to force Freedomite children into schools.)

The children are being cared for at a converted sanitarium at New Denver on the shores of Skokan Lake, about 50 miles from here.

The Freedomites, who claim that Canadian education leads to wars and strife, are blamed for recurring outbreaks of arson and nude parading that has plagued the Kootenay area in southeastern B.C. for more than 20 years.

Charge of Contributing to Delinquency Of a Juvenile Mars Youngsters' Honeymoon

STOUFFVILLE, Ont. (BUP)—Bob St. Andrews, 18, married Nancy Prentice, 14, Tuesday, but a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a juvenile postponed their honeymoon.

The bride still wore her wedding dress as she did her Grade Eight homework last night.

Everyone in Stouffville appeared to be rooting for the newlyweds, including the officers who arrested St. Andrews Friday, one day before the wedding was scheduled.

The youthful truck driver has already spent three days in Toronto's Don Jail. A neighbor put up $1,000 bail and got him out in time for the wedding.

"All the neighbors have been coming in to visit us and congratulate us," his child bride said. "Even the police officers who arrested Bob came to wish us luck."

Their parents gave their consent weeks ago and the Rev. Gibson Brown, who performed the marriage ceremony, said he had decided "to make the best of it."

He described Nancy as "a fine girl" in his Sunday school, and

Boys Plead Vainly for Help As Man, Woman Die in Car

KENORA, Ont. (BUP)—Police said that Mr. and Mrs. John Eszczuk were asphyxiated early today when their car went off the Carlton branch road near here.

Police said the couple's 11-year-old son, Stanley, and Mike Klavatz walked to a farm to get help. Unable to persuade a farmer that assistance was needed, they returned to the automobile where they said the hurt man told them to go home, and he would be along shortly.

Klavatz and the son walked home; and called police when the boy's father and mother failed to arrive. Police said the couple—had—apparently—been nearly unconscious from gasoline fumes when their son spoke to them, and they died shortly after he left.

Liberal 'Carpet-Slipper Socialists' Says Hansell

(From CP and BUP Dispatches)
 Liberals are "the carpet-slipper Socialist party in Canada," Rev. E. G. Hansell said Tuesday night.

"There is no more dangerous Socialist party than the present Liberal party," the Social Credit member for Macleod said. However, he was quick to add that Liberals are not Socialists in the sense that the CCF party is Socialist.

The CCF, the Alberta member said, are more outspoken about their proposals for nationalizing industries. "They lay their cards on the table," he said. "The Liberals said 'go easy, not so fast' while giving lip service to free enterprise. They bided their time to introduce Socialist legislation. Liberals let the CCF clamor for Socialist legislation and then introduced it themselves."

Clarie Gillis (CCF, Cape Breton South) interjected that was because Liberals "are smart."

Mr. Hansell quoted from a speech in the Commons last week by Elmore Philpott (Lib, Vancouver South) who had said his cup of jubilation ran over when the Progressive Conservative opposition criticized the government for not introducing

SENATOR KING, 82, CONGRATULATED

OTTAWA (BUP)—Tributes were paid in the Senate Tuesday night to Sen. J. H. King (L-British Columbia) on his birthday anniversary.

After speeches by Sen. W. Ross Macdonald, government leader, and Sen. John T. Haig, opposition leader, King said he was "a bit embarrassed," but that serving in the Senate had been "a wonderful experience of my life."

King, a former minister of public works, was appointed to the Senate in 1930, and has served as its speaker and government leader.

must be a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to prevent it falling under Russian domination.

Senator John T. Haig (PC-Manitoba) made the statement Tuesday night as he called on Parliament to ratify the Paris protocol providing for the entry of a rearmament West Germany into NATO.

Import of New Zealand cheese into this country has placed Canadian cheese producers in a precarious position.

Dr. William Blair (PC-Lanark) criticized the government for permitting the importation of 2,250,000 pounds of New Zealand cheese when Canadian cheese producers have 10,000,000 more pounds in storage than last year.

He said the Canadian cheese market now is completely disorganized and the way has been left open for unrestricted imports of dairy products from New Zealand.

The government was asked Tuesday night to increase old age pensions.

William (Scotty) Bryce (CCF-Saskatchewan) said many old age pensioners find it hard to live on the present pension of $40 a month.

Surely, he said, the government could find ways and means of increasing the pensions. He did not suggest how much they should be boosted.

He also suggested establishment of a livestock marketing board, something which he said should have been done long ago.

Senator Thomas Reid says he will ask the government to state the amount of money spent by the CBC for exclusive rights to televise the British Empire Games in Vancouver last summer.

Senator Reid (Liberal, British Columbia), served notice of the question in the Senate.

He said he wants to know the amount of revenue received by the CBC for the sale of the television rights or films taken at the Games to United States interests.

Post Office Heads Under Fire

The Commons has been told that a Manitoba postal official was twice promoted over the heads of better employees through favoritism at department at Ottawa.

Fernand Viau (L-St. Boniface) Tuesday named the official as R. J. Emerson, formerly of Brandon, Man., and said he was "railroaded" last month into the job of area superintendent at Winnipeg without a competition to find the best man for the job.

He said Mr. Emerson is the protégé of an executive assistant in the post office department, and described both the assistant and the department's deputy minister, Walter Turnbull, as members of "an unelected depository of power in the post office department."

The Manitoba member said later, outside the House, the assistant he referred to is E. J. Underwood, chief executive officer to Mr. Turnbull.

Jobless Ottawa Responsibility

The federal government should assume responsibility for taking care of unemployed who are able to work, a CCF member said.

Joseph Noseworthy (York South), one of his party's chief spokesmen on labor, said growing unemployment has brought on the time for the government to implement a policy of assuming such a responsibility, which it had proposed at the 1945 federal-provincial conference.

"The cabinet has repudiated the 1945 policy," he said.

Along with providing for those out of work, he said, the government should take steps to create jobs by increasing social welfare spending and stepping up its public works program.

He saw these "danger signals" in the Canadian economy that called for federal action:

1. National production was declining while the labor force was increasing.
2. There had been a drop in net farm income, exerting a depressing effect on other sections of the economy.
3. Export trade was "anything but good" in 1954.
4. Decrease in employment and "production was likely to continue in 1955."

Statement on Freight Rates By Sloan Irks Farm Union

OTTAWA (CP)—The Inter-provincial Farm Union Council today charged that Chief Justice Gordon Sloan "exceeded his authority" in making statements and recommendations in connection with the Prairie grain freight rates. It said his recommendations should carry no weight.

The cabinet-appointed arbitrator, in settling a rail-labor dispute Nov. 22, suggested federal subsidy on western grain freight rates.

The British Columbia chief justice said the railways cannot afford to meet workers' demands in the face of declining revenues and blamed the decline in large part on "distortion and imbalance" of the freight rate structure caused by the low "Crow's Nest Pass" rates on export grain moving through the west.

The council, in a cabinet submission, said it protests his statement vigorously.

EXCEEDED AUTHORITY "We think Mr. Justice Sloan exceeded his authority, and that his recommendations should carry no weight since he obviously made no investigation of the facts."

Falling Farm Prices Behind Parity Demand

Farmers Irked by Rising Production Costs; Determined to Shore $8 Billion Industry

By WILF CHISLETT

REGINA (CP)—Falling farm income and rising costs of production in the last two years have given a new impetus to farm demands for parity prices, advocated as a means of returning "economic justice" to the $8,000,000,000 agricultural industry.

A delegation from the Inter-provincial Farm Union Council which represents farmers in four provinces hands its annual brief to the federal cabinet at Ottawa today. Top among the brief's requests is that for parity prices, asked by Canadian farmers for 25 years.

This year, with strengthened ranks and protests mounting, farm leaders have already listed two courses of action possible if the government again turns a deaf ear: a march on Ottawa of as many as 1,000 farm delegates, and a conference of western members of Parliament at which attempts might be made to form a farm bloc cutting across party lines.

Buying Strike Threatened

Farm leaders in recent months have come out with other threats: a buying strike in which farmers would pledge themselves to buy only essentials, and a new farm political party with a basic two-point platform of full employment and fair prices. Organization already has started on formation of a national farm union, an outgrowth of the three big Prairie unions and the Inter-provincial Farm Union Council.

Behind all this activity is parity price, a term few can agree on but which generally is considered to mean a price for agricultural produce bearing a true relationship to what the farmer has to buy and his costs of production.

To the farmer who has been eyeing the income of other groups in Canada and United States farmers who have had a parity price system since 1933, it means simply "more money than I'm getting now."

If the farmer gets parity prices it means higher prices to Canadian consumers and possibly higher taxes.

While other groups have had their income rise sharply in the last two years farm income has dropped 27 per cent to an estimated $2,408,600,000. Out of this farmers pay costs of production which are increasing steadily.

The parity price would involve an index relating farm costs and prices. One measuring rod suggested is the Dominion Bureau of Statistics' composite index of farm costs which uses the period 1935-39 to represent 100.

In 1940-49 the index averaged 141.8 and by 1953 had zoomed to 223.5. For the farmer to have the same purchasing power in 1953 as he had in 1940-49 he would have to receive a parity price of $2.09 a bushel for No. 1 northern wheat basis Lakehead, $28.30 a hundredweight for grade B1 hogs dressed weight, $19.26 a hundredweight for good steers, up to 1,050 pounds liveweight and $21.13 a hundredweight for good handy weight lambs. The actual prices in 1953 were $1.82 a bushel for wheat, $28.78 on the average for hogs, $19.85 for lambs and $18.25 for steers.

Various faults have been found in parity prices. The chief one is a parity price alone does not determine a farmer's income since volume is at least as important and the two together determine income.

Parity Price Faults Outlined

a showdown for parity prices. Farm leaders claim the strike was not settled but merely postponed.

Complaints include: 1. Parity prices might lead to maintenance of "artificially high" prices which are not in line with supply and demand and subsequent large surpluses, or prevent the buyer from getting necessary foods.

2. Cost of maintaining a parity price program has proved to be unusually high in a period of declining prices.

3. The parity price system inevitably leads to a two-price system for domestic and foreign markets which could in turn lead to dumping of surpluses abroad.

4. Certain agricultural products cannot be stored and have to be sold at what the market will bring.

5. A parity price system would keep even the most inefficient farmer in operation.

Parity, however, has become a symbol to the Canadian farmer who wants to rid his business of its "boom-and-bust" tendency.

In 1946 20,000 farmers in Alberta and 83,000 in Saskatchewan called a delivery strike in

20 Dead in European Storm

More Snow Predicted Today; 3,700 Evacuated From Rhone Valley

LONDON (AP)—Britain mobilized a fleet of some 20 helicopters and planes today to drop food and medicines in frozen northern Scotland. More snow was predicted for much of the British Isles and Europe, where blizzards, gales and floods have raged for more than a week.

At least 20 persons are known dead as a result of the week of snow, ice and flood, including 13 in Germany, two in France, at least five in Scotland and an unannounced number in Poland.

The Royal Navy's 13,000-ton aircraft carrier Glory steamed from the Clyde toward the northern coast of Scotland to act as a floating base for helicopters engaged in rescue missions over the snowbound counties of Caithness and Sutherland.

The RAF ordered more than 20 planes to a relief base in Kinross. More than 10,000 persons in Caithness and Sutherland were cut off from the outer world by 20-foot snowdrifts and fallen telephone lines. Radio broadcasts advised them to mark "F" on the snow if they needed food, or a "D" if a doctor was required.

Another blizzard interrupted rescue operations late Tuesday.

CHECKS FLOODING

Freezing weather early today put some check on flooding in the Mosel and Rhine Rivers of western Germany. At Bonn, the West German capital, the flood crest on the Rhine was still to come but already the basement of the federal parliament building was full of water. Workers ringed the structure with 40,000 sandbags to head off the rising river. At Mehlheim, near Bonn, the United States high commission was flooded out of its headquarters.

In France, the flooding Garonne neared the danger mark and there was fear that the dam at Toury, on the Eure River, would burst. More than 3,700 persons have been evacuated from low-lying areas in the Rhone valley.

Winds ranging up to 60 miles an hour meanwhile lashed Italy's Ligurian coast, smashing summer cottages, uprooting trees and driving huge waves across the coastal roads. Mountainous waves continued to lash the sea, keeping the damaged Greek ship Corinthia from reaching port. The 3,879-ton vessel rammed a reef midway along the coast between Rome and Leghorn Tuesday, smashing a hole in her bow. All the Corinthia's 167 passengers were removed by the 5,000-ton Italian ship Sicilia after the damaged vessel manoeuvred off the reef and into shelter in a cove on the little island of Giannutri.

CHARMING: Tokyo police, gripped by complaints that their headquarters is unattractive, have assigned four pretty girls to meet people at the building's two entrances. Officials also have ordered the women to take charm courses.

Mr. Harris on Trial

MR. JAMES SINCLAIR SAYS his colleague, Mr. Harris, has done a job on his first budget which will please the public. At the end of this month we shall know how successful the finance minister has been in pruning the annual estimates.

Unlike the Provincial Government, the Federal Government introduces its budget in two stages. First, early in the calendar year, come the estimates, showing what is to be spent in the ensuing fiscal year. In spring the Government proposes taxes required to raise this money. The 1955-56 expenditures must have been fixed already, and perhaps the tax policies also. Together they will provide a test of Mr. Harris' capacity.

As Mr. Sinclair says—and it is no surprise to anyone—there can be no drastic tax reductions so long as we must carry a defense burden of some $2 billions a year; not, at least, without a heavy deficit, and most Canadians would be opposed to any such policy when the country is highly prosperous.

Canada should avoid the mistake of the United States Congress, which ordered large tax cuts last spring, encountered a large deficit and now is urged by President Eisenhower to postpone some of these cuts. It would be foolish indeed for the Canadian Government to raise false hopes in the taxpayer's mind, only to dash them later on.

As things stand, Mr. Harris faces a problem precisely opposite to that of his able predecessor, Mr. Justice Douglas Abbott. From the end of the war until last year the Government accumulated large surpluses. Mr. Abbott's problem was to use those surpluses to repay a part of the huge war debt and, at the same time, to damp down the heat of inflation by this fiscal method. He largely succeeded despite powerful and irresponsible opposition which argued that he was "over-taxing" the people.

A Short Walk From Holland Point

WHILE MONEY GOES INTO the beautification of the Victoria waterfront, civic officials might take another look at a sign near the foot of Howe Street which adds nothing to the attractiveness of the area.

The sign bears the legend "Unsafe for Bathing. Water polluted." It was erected on the instructions of the health department. Another marks the eastern limits of the contamination at the foot of St. Charles.

A short walk from Holland Point, where substantial funds are being spent on beautification, citizens and visitors have their attention drawn forcibly to the fact that Victoria has a sewer outfall problem with which it has failed to deal properly.

A few years ago at least one other beach was condemned because of pollution from that outfall. Installation of a communitator reduced the health hazard and the ban was lifted

Mr. Harris, on the other hand, faces a substantial deficit in the current year, ending March 31. Mr. Grant Dexter, the ablest newspaper correspondent in Ottawa, says the deficit may amount to $150 or $200 millions. Such figures are far too large to be repeated.

They result from Mr. Abbott's marginal error in calculating the economic climate last spring. He assumed that the gross national product, having declined in the previous six months, would rise before autumn and, over the year as a whole, would be slightly larger than in 1953.

Mr. Abbott was wrong, but mostly in his timing. The improvement which he foresaw in late summer did not occur until late in the fall and the year's gross product dropped slightly. That drop reflected itself instantly in tax collections and resulting deficit.

Mr. Harris' problem thus is obvious but extremely difficult to solve. In estimating his revenues should he assume a rise, a fall or no change in the present rate of business?

There is no reason to assume a fall, but can he assume a rise? Probably he can, but will that rise of itself eliminate the existing deficit without any change in taxes or expenditures?

That assumption might be sound but cannot be safely made, if Mr. Harris wishes to balance the budget. As he cannot raise taxes, he is compelled to cut expenditures. The real test of Mr. Harris is his ability to do this.

Mr. Sinclair intimates that economy has indeed been achieved and, if so, it may balance the new budget. If, however, Mr. Harris has not been able to cut his expenditures, or at least halt the steady increase of recent years, his career will have got away to an unfortunate start.

from Foul Bay. At that time the city was informed by the health inspector that the communitator was a first step in removing danger. Eventually, the mayor and aldermen were told, a treatment system would be needed to render the sewage harmless. That, presumably, would entail use of chlorinating equipment.

The warning was given back in 1950. But the situation remains unchanged. Otherwise the signs would have been removed.

Is this to be taken as an example of city policy? Is the council content to let the Provincial Government spend money on Holland Point and to listen to calls for more expenditure by Ottawa while Victoria itself neglects a job which is definitely its own?

Are we preying up the face of Victoria in the manner of the earlier Elizabethan beauties and showing a medieval disregard for hygiene?

the movement, named after him, to encourage youth's interest in concerts, the central figure for many years of the Royal Conservatory of Toronto, a composer and arranger of high merit and a most engaging personality.

During his visit to Victoria last year, Sir Ernest mentioned to acquaintances the attraction of the Pacific Coast to those Canadians considering retirement. It might be opportune at this time to remind him of his half-expressed wish and to assure him that Victoria would be honored to have him as a resident.

Among friends, including his former student Mr. Hans Gruber, he would find ample opportunity for the expression of his interest in symphony—opportunity which the Victoria musical organization would doubtless be happy to provide.

'Under Way on Nuclear Power'

ALTHOUGH IT HAD THE appearance of being merely a "routine operation," the sailing of the U.S. submarine Nautilus on Monday marked a new era in the story of mankind. For the first time in that long story, man has harnessed atomic power for transportation.

It was typical of our day and age that the first vessel so powered should be a ship of war. But what will propel a submarine across and under the seas will equally well drive freighters and passenger ships. With the silent departure of the Nautilus to the trial area, atomic power for transportation became a fact.

Numerous brief messages and phrases of historic import have found a permanent place in man's vocabulary. "What wonders hath God wrought," the first message to be transmitted by telegraph, is one such sentence. With others like it, beyond doubt, will be preserved the first message flashed from the bridge of the Nautilus, shortly after it slid powerfully away from the dock: "Under way on nuclear power."

A great deal of engineering ingenuity will be required before the peculiar problems of atomic energy can be surmounted to provide power for smaller vehicles. The great weight of the equipment, the shielding required for human protection, the disposal of dangerous radioactive waste products—these will tax man's inventiveness.

But answers to these questions are merely a matter of time. It is only ten years since the atom was unleashed. Already experimental stationary power plants are in operation, and now a ship, the first of seven being planned, and able to circumnavigate the globe without refueling, is afloat. The next decade may be expected to show even more spectacular advances, with the prospect that the peacetime atom will eventually provide answers to mankind's problems which the wartime atom can never hope to yield.

MAKE IT A PARK

Suggestions that the Beaver Lake area be declared a public park, should bring co-operation between the two municipalities concerned into converting this sensible idea to reality.

Public parks are the only outdoor places of pleasure and relaxation always open to everyone without payment of any fee. The more parks we possess the happier and healthier life around Victoria will be.

DENIS H. BESLEY, F.R.H.S.

VETS' ALLOWANCES

Many thanks to Col. F. T. Fairley, M.P., Victoria, in his championing the Vets in a raise in his cigarette allowance. But I cannot agree with him re having the Canadian Pension Commission giving them anything as a disability, even though they may be entitled to it.

This body at Ottawa have more power than the Government in those matters, as it was handed over to them, which was a great mistake, for a lot of Vets at any rate.

I thank the good Lord they will not have anything to do with the raising of the Vets' allowance, if they did it would be downward for sure. Many disability Vets who had 100 per cent are as low as 10 per cent now, and yet others who had only five per cent are now 100 per cent, and good luck to them I say, they need it.

The good Liberal government gave the disability men two blanket raises. If it had been left to C.P.C. we would have been where we were, so I just don't see how that sympathy could come from them, or their helpers here in Victoria. Many thanks to the Liberal government for the help they are about to give the poor old timer.

X-RAY AND ANXIETY

The chest X-ray surveys carried out from time to time by the government are to fight tuberculosis. Many medical officers hold the view that when a person has pulmonary tuberculosis only a chest X-ray will show it.

But mass examinations do more harm than good. A fair percentage of the population has had the disease and recovered without knowing or worrying about it. If they had been X-rayed at a particular time some small sign would have shown up and all their social contacts might have been disturbed, even their relations with their neighbours.

Chest X-rays give a false sense of security. A few days or weeks after the examination reveals nothing, a real trouble may develop, but because of being given a clean bill of health, the victims disregard the real symptoms.

It may take two or three months, or longer, from the time a person becomes infected before the X-rays will show the slightest evidence that he has tuberculosis, and by the time the X-ray does show evidence of it he may have begun to feel better; the X-ray appearance of the progressive disease and healing disease lag behind the failing or gaining health of the patient. It is the state of a person's health, not the X-ray, which indicates whether the disease is progressing, quiescent or healed.

It would be more reasonable to spend our resources on improving living conditions, on education in hygiene, rather than on equipment and on mass radiography of healthy persons, especially when we realize the fact that radiography is inefficient and the unnecessary anxiety it can cause with its propaganda of fear.

INTERESTED.

MR. GUNDERSON AND EUROPE'S JOBLESS

That a man, however respected in his own profession and successful in his own business should be twice rejected by the people in aspiring for public office and yet be soon after appointed to one of the upper income positions on the public payroll is perhaps not too surprising in this day of surprises.

The responsibility for having more confidence in the man in making this appointment of Mr. Gunderson rests of course squarely on the head of Mr. Bennett.

The recent public remarks by Mr. Gunderson now repeated for the second time and reported in your newspaper on the question of unemployment are so completely contrary to the facts that this writer feels unable to repress a feeling of astonishment that a man of Mr. Gunderson's stature in the community could make a trip to Europe and come back with his facts on perhaps the most important single factor there not only badly mixed up, but in complete opposition to the findings of responsible bodies whose accuracy and impartiality are unquestioned on either side of the Iron Curtain.

I refer of course to Mr. Gunderson's statement as reported in your paper that there are no unemployed in Europe today. For public information the facts of the matter are that there are between 5,334,000 (as a maximum computation) and 3,552,000 (taking the minimum figures available) in the countries of Western Europe alone. For the larger figure I am indebted to the International Labour Review of August 1954, for the lesser to the Statistical Supplement of the International Labour Office, both published in Geneva with the co-operation of the United Nations.

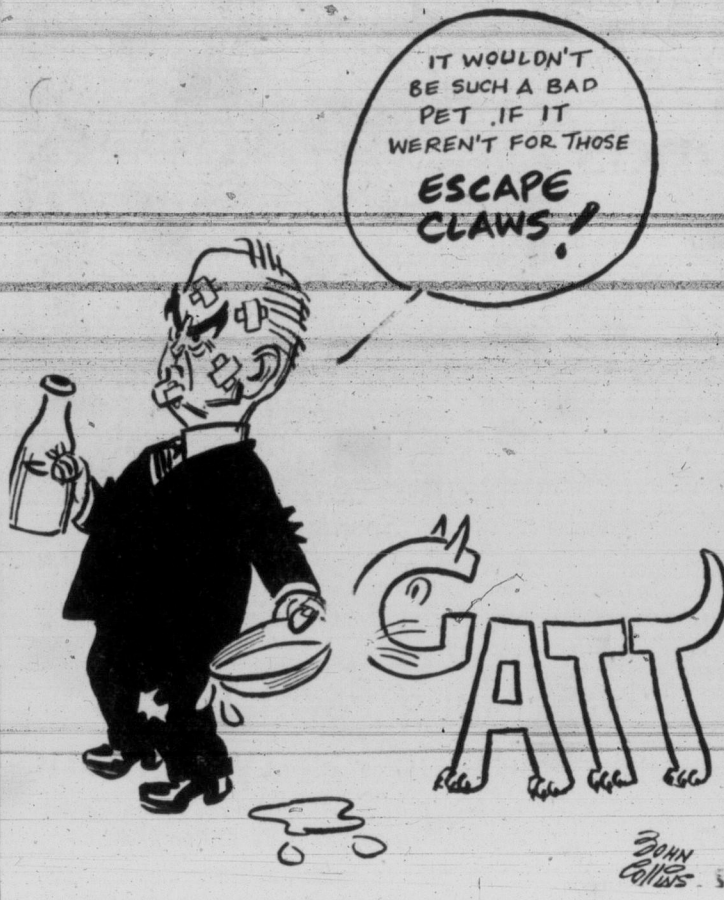

In case Mr. Gunderson would care to get himself straightened out on this terrible state of affairs I would refer him to a 22 page article by Attilio Orlati in the 1953 Yearbook of the United Nations.

One of the countries where Mr. Gunderson "found" (?) no unemployment was Western Germany and yet a reference to the statistics available will show that in that country unemployment is one of the most difficult problems. The approximately two million completely unemployed workers in Italy is one of the reasons for the continued threat of Communism in that country and indeed it is this writer's opinion that unemployment wherever it is, and whether the figures are one or a million or will be found to be the Trojan Horse of democracy.

I suggest that men in receipt of large sums of the peoples' money can not be too careful in making sure of their statements on this most important of problems.

What C. D. Brought Home

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

ON Monday I was mentioning yachting, a natural topic for January... one should always strive to be topical, for this gives the reader the impression that you are at a loss for a subject. He then knows you are writing only as a duty, and he appreciates the compliment. If there is anything that gives the reader a dull pain, it is the suspicion that you are writing for fun, or because you have something to say, or know what you are talking about.

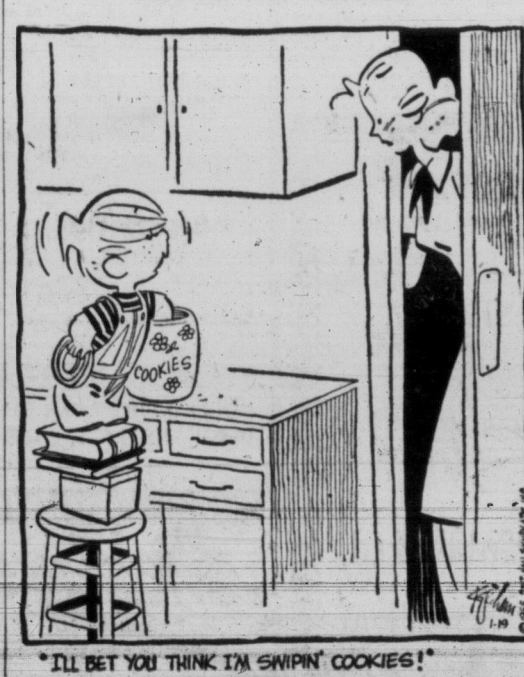

Anyhow, I forgot to pass on a little yachting story I lately received from a correspondent on the Suez Canal. To wit: "We have just spent the afternoon on the Great Bitter Lake in a 93-ton yacht which a couple of officers of the Life Guards bought pretty well off the cuff for their private pleasure and the good of the regiment. One of them was mentioning enthusiastically having seen the yacht which M. Onassis (the Greek oil and tanker merchant) took through here the other day. The Life Guards had cruised round her six times and noted the amphibian aircraft, large private car, big speed-boat and 5-ton yacht she carried as a few of her external accessories. They had since read in Time magazine that Onassis had had her converted in a German yard from a Canadian frigate at the cost of a mere three and a half million pounds. This included marble-faced bulkheads and lapis lazuli stanchions. The Life Guardsman wound up philosophically by saying he supposed that if you had that sort of thing, you had nothing left to look forward to. I would have been glad to settle for his 93-ton yacht."

THE most luxurious yacht I myself have seen was the Duke of Sutherland's one (I forget her name for the moment) which was caught by the 1939 war while in B.C. waters. Two facts about her impressed me more than all the rest: she had a separate room in which to house $15,000 worth of dual-fishing tackle, and she carried a private bagpiper. I bet M. Onassis's yacht hasn't got a private bagpiper. But for Pete's sake don't mention this to him, or he will soon have a hundred pipers and a 'a'. And he'll up and he'll give 'em a blow, a blow.

If I were a yacht-owner on a stupendous scale, I should sometimes find it a little hard to resist the Monte Cristo touch. What fun it would be to have bath-tubs made of pure blocks of amber, for example. I dare say they wouldn't stand the heat any too well, though I'm not too sure about that. But at least they wouldn't show the dirt. And some of my guests are going to be an awfully dirty bunch... international swindlers of the first water, or the worst-water.

THIS was written well over a hundred years ago, and I suppose amber was a bit cheaper then. Still, you can treat six or seven pounds of chocolate with one ounce of amber (437.5 grains). And surely you have an old amber cigarette holder somewhere? If it is only imitation amber, the experiment will be all the more entertaining. In one of my more notorious yachts we used to drink amber neat. It made us feel like five billion dollars, at par. Which was about the value of the yacht herself. Not that we ever needed to drink amber to rid ourselves of fixed ideas. Nobody in that yacht had fixed ideas. I never saw men whose ideas were less fixed. Except our psychiatrist, Surgeon-Captain Syndrome. His ideas were very fixed. He used to fix ideas all the time. But after all, he was in the business.

DENNIS THE MENACE

Some Hope For Indonesia

By JOSEPH ALSOP
From Jakarta, Indonesia

THE news from Indonesia is both negative and unprecise, thus breaking two old newspaper rules; but it is still important news. In brief, the Communist danger here is nothing like so serious as it has often been painted in the last year. To be sure, Indonesian politics have a quality all their own. Everything happens slowly. Everything is indeterminate. A crisis that would tear another country apart in a week can last a couple of months here, and produce no very clear result when it is over. And all this makes analysis pretty difficult.

Yet the fact remains that there is little in the picture here to justify the pessimism about the Indonesian future that is so often voiced in Washington. On the contrary, if world communism is not flabbily permitted to take over the rest of Asia, there is every reason to feel hopeful about this remarkable new nation of 80,000,000 people, with its beautiful land, its vast untapped resources and its immense future possibilities.

DEVOUT MOSLEMS

Among the Indonesian people, 90 per cent of them devout Moslems. The Communists have gained no mass base except in the labor unions in the biggest towns. They are tolerated and Communist political support is accepted by the government of Prime Minister Ali Sastroamidjojo, but they have not yet got their hands on the police, the Army, or any other vital lever of power.

When this reporter was in Jakarta a little more than a year ago, the Army seemed to be in danger. The only seriously suspect character in the present government, Defense Minister Iwa Kusumasumantri was seeking to get the Army under his personal control. And this attempt was causing a major crisis that filled all Jakarta with rumors of violence to come.

The crisis ended with the semi-retirement of one of Indonesia's most impressive leaders, the former Chief of Staff of the Armed Forces, Gen. Simatupang. But the way was still not opened to Communist penetration of the armed forces. The factions in the Army have drawn together, if anything, because of the political attempts to play one faction against another. The Army remains a powerful anti-Communist force.

Meanwhile Prime Minister Ali's government, whose good faith on this point has been unfairly attacked, is now seriously preparing the first national election. Both Ali and President Sukarno are firmly pledged to holding the election this year, and it will probably come in late July or early August.

CHANCE TO SPEAK

That means that the present artificial situation, in which all politics centre in a parliament of arbitrarily appointed deputies, will shortly come to a welcome end. The people will have their chance to speak. There will be a chance for a more vigorous and confident attack on Indonesia's many difficult problems, among which the economic problem bulks particularly large. And as the national problems begin to be solved, the Communist danger should recede still further.

There are still very great difficulties ahead, of course. One of the most unappealing characteristics of Dutch imperialism, which was generally unpleasant, was the extreme restriction of education. When the Indonesian Republic was established, 93 per cent of the people were illiterate, and the group of men with full, modern, Western education numbered no more than a few hundred.

However patriotic they may be, illiterates cannot administer one of the biggest nations of the modern world. The task of Indonesia's small group of adequately trained leaders has been back-breaking. The wonder is not that progress in Indonesia has been relatively slow. The wonder is, rather, that the nation has survived and gone forward.

These facts mean, in turn, that any judgment of this country has to be sympathetic in order to be realistic.

INITIAL FALTERINGS

When the beginning was so inordinately hard, a bad and cannot be predicted just because there are initial falterings. Men like Prime Minister Ali and President Sukarno should not be judged pro-Communist because their present attitude toward Indonesian communism seems alarmingly amiable to many Americans.

Every brand new nation always has two traits. It is irrationally touchy and suspicious, as any reader of our own early history will surely have observed. And it needs time and more time and still more time to develop its own national political forms, its own characteristic national life and its own ways of doing world business.

If these things are remembered and Indonesia is given both time and sympathy, this country can one day become one of the great powers of the free world. But whether the time will be allowed, directly depends on what the responsible leaders of the free world do about the Communist advance in the rest of Asia.

MARKED for READING
INSATIABLE

The trouble about power systems is that they are generally controlled by men who have themselves a deep-seated desire for power that can never be satisfied, unlike an appetite for food, drink, women and luxurious living. Much of the ideological warfare of our time is merely an elaborate cover for a naked struggle for power. This explains why our age is so noisy with propaganda, why all the instruments of persuasion and deceit are so elaborate and strong. Ordinary men and women have to be persuaded that they do not want something that in fact they do want, namely, to live their own lives in a sensible and satisfying fashion, and that they do want what in fact they do not want, namely, to sacrifice nearly all that makes life worth living to the drives of some power system.

—J. B. Priestley, famous novelist and playwright.

Maths, Books and Wimmin

LIBERAL leader Arthur Laing obviously pinked Premier Bennett rather tenderly in his remarks about Social Crediters being eased into cushy government appointments. Laing could have enumerated many more. One of the more amusing, locally, was the posting of a Sacred Carwasher to a job as inspector of lumber mills.

There is nothing new about patronage. It has been practised by every political party, for the simple reason that politicians like to take care of their friends, rather than their enemies. What people resent about the Socials in this regard is their pious enunciation that there would be "no patronage" under their regime.

This holier-than-thou attitude has apparently been modified. For Mr. Bennett now concedes that Socials are picking off the government jobs—but for a very curious reason.

"It's natural," quoth the Premier, "because there are more Socials than all other parties put together."

This, it might be noted, is another striking example of Mr. Bennett's mathematical legendariness. The popular vote in the last provincial election was as follows:

Social Credit: 275,238. Others: 402,236. Or, to break it down into percentages: Socials, 38%. Others: 62% (C.C.F. 31, Liberals 23, Tories 6, Others 2.)

Two months later, in the Federal election, the Socials polled even fewer votes in British Columbia than the C.C.F. Here is the popular vote:

Liberals, 143,257; C.C.F., 123,880; Socials, 123,492; Tories, 77,047.

Nationally, the Liberals polled 48 per cent of the popular vote and the Socials 3.7 per cent.

Tsk, tsk, Mr. Premier. The first thing you know, people are going to start checking your figures!

Carol Pearson, the woman who buried Emily Carr's "little treasures" somewhere in the environs of Beacon Hill park, has written a fascinating, if somewhat awkward, memoir in "Emily Carr as I Knew Her."

Mrs. Pearson recalls how Victorians used to leer at the great artist when she went forth, with her monkey and parrot, to do her shopping, and brought home her groceries in a baby carriage.

This same carriage was used on day-hunting expeditions which always baffled city-workmen. Whenever Mrs. Pearson or Emily spotted a building excavation, they would stop and the young girl would scramble down into the cellar to dig up some clay and pass it to Miss Carr, to see if it was suitable for modeling.

"If it was promising," Mrs. Pearson writes, "she would then bite off a small piece and grind it between her teeth. If it gritted or squeaked, it was not what we were looking for, but if it stayed gummy, it was! The men would watch in wonder; they never did make head or tail of it."

If the clay was gummy, Mrs. Pearson would rush off and get a wash boiler; Emily stayed at the excavation. The tub when filled weighed over 300 pounds—enough to make 300-500 pieces of pottery. The smallest sold for a quarter!

Weekend Picture Magazine has just given this department a difficult assignment.

We have been asked to find two or three Victoria women who are "noted for their good looks, are over 40 and don't mind admitting it." They must be pretty, chic, have children, and outside interests. Says the editor: "We want a Joan Crawford, not an Ethel Barrymore."

The woman finally selected will be photographed in the spring and featured, with six other women from key centres across Canada, to show that the "over-40's" can be trim, stylish, good-looking, and active.

Any suggestions?

RAILS SEEN AS KEY LINK IN CANADA PROSPERITY

Canada generally cannot be prosperous unless the railways show a profit thereby making their "proper and utmost contribution" to the national economic welfare, Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway superintendent D. C. Hartley said Tuesday.

In an address before the Victoria branch, National Office Management Association, he said railways had helped cut transportation costs and many goods would not be available without railways.

On the question of operational costs, he said that they, too, had to meet a "cost of living" but as they sold a service for the common good were more regulated by law than the ordinary business.

Truck-Less Sundays Asked for Highways

Because of the variance between license fees plus gas taxes, and the higher provincial outlay for highway upkeep, the highway transport industry should shoulder a larger portion of highway maintenance and construction costs, the B.C. Ship-By-Rail Association told the government Tuesday.

In a brief to Attorney-General Bonner and Public Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi, the association urged the government to establish a highway control board for B.C. trucking with a ton-mile or weight-distance tax placed on trucks.

The group said the government collected $24,500,000 in license fees and gas tax last year, but spent $49,000,000 on highway upkeep.

Trucking industry jurisdiction should be taken from the motor carrier branch of the Public Utilities Commission and turned over to a highway transport board, the brief said, advocating that a full study of the situation be made.

The association recommended also that trucks be banned from highways from midnight Saturday to midnight Sunday; that loading and unloading be declared illegal, and that trucks in caravan be required to keep a certain distance apart to allow easy passing by cars; that truck speed be governed by weight; and that spot checks be made at key points by highway police.

The association is a welfare body formed in 1931 for benefit of railway workers.

"No trouble with IRREGULARITY"

Writes Mr. J. C. Hillis, of Halifax, N.S.

"It's a pleasure to be rid of harsh laxatives. I've had no trouble with irregularity for 18 months, since taking your gentle but effective laxative cereal—Kellogg's All-Brans."

The above testimonial is typical of thousands received each year for All-Brans, the original, natural laxative cereal prepared nearly 40 years ago by W. K. Kellogg. This delicious dish promotes comfortable elimination without harsh purging.

Relief from Constipation

The greatest advantage of All-Brans is that it corrects the cause of irregularity due to insufficient bulk. Chemical or drug-type laxatives, on the other hand, are intended only for overnight relief of a temporary stoppage. All-Brans is made from the outer layers of the whole wheat kernel and supplies natural food bulk. Just eat daily a one-ounce serving for breakfast and drink plenty of water. It will improve your "Intestinal Tone" so necessary to comfortable regularity.

Satisfaction Guaranteed

All-Brans is a wholesome, good-tasting cereal that has helped millions. We'll prove to you that Kellogg's All-Brans will give gentle, effective relief from constipation within 10 days or return twice what you paid. But be sure you get Kellogg's, the one and only All-Brans. Kellogg's, London, Ontario.

Cancer in Children

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

People ask if children have cancer. Yes; I am sorry to say, they do. A high percentage of cancers are to be found in children, but usually they are different in structure and origin and location from those of adults.

Most of the malignant tumors of children are found in the brain; others are found in bones and muscles. One that is formed in the kidney is called a Wilms tumor. Some tumors will form in a small child's eye.

Many of the tumors are called sarcomas. In Greek the sarx means flesh, and oma means a tumor. Epithelioma means a tumor that is formed in the epithelium (the skin or the lining of some body cavity). An adenoma is a tumor which forms in a gland.

Carcinoma, or cancer, comes from the Greek word for a crab—a crab that eats out tissues. A myxoma of the uterus means a muscle tumor. Actually, it is a lump of muscle much like that in the rest of the uterus. A myeloma is a tumor that originates in the bone marrow.

Unfortunately, some of the cancers of children are highly malignant and hence grow rapidly. Others are less malignant and grow more slowly. Those that form in the brain are particularly distressing because so often they are not sharply enough delimited so that the surgeon can see where tumors end and good brain tissue begins.

Some of the tumors of children are supposed to have formed from little bits of tissue which were left behind in the wrong place, as the tiny body was being put together in its mother's womb. It is much as if, when carpenters were building a house, during luncheon they left in the space between two parts of a wall the seed of a fruit tree. We can imagine that, later, this seed grew and grew until it formed a tree big enough to break down the walls about it. Some queer tumors of this type, called teratomas, and made from scraps of skin left behind inside the body, contain hair and teeth!

Alvarez

Many a man who has never suspected that his prostate gland was enlarged and who has always urinated well enough after an operation has suddenly blocked up and has been unable to urinate at all. Sometimes this difficulty has been produced by the taking of some morphine, which in the case of a normal person would not have done any harm.

When the operation has been performed in the region of the pelvis, the muscles of the bladder may have been stimulated, and as a result, for a time, the man is unable to void.

Men with a beginning enlargement of the prostate gland who are able to urinate well enough most of the time, may have difficulty when they are dulled by sleepiness or when they have driven a long way in an automobile on a very cold day, or when they have drunk a quart of beer. Sometimes, then, the man cannot urinate at all, and a physician has to draw away the urine by passing a catheter or tube into the bladder. After this the man will probably have to have a resection or removal of the obstructing part of the prostate gland.

CLEFT PALATE OPERATIONS According to the American Society of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery a child with a cleft palate should have the defect closed by operation between the ages of 14 and 18 months. This will give the child the best chances for normal speech later.

The opinion was based on a study made by Dr. Lyndon A. Peer, together with Drs. Robert Hagerty, F. S. Hoffmeister and Michael B. Collito. They made a study of the end results in 188 cases of operation for cleft palate.

The children generally suffer, also, from an underdevelopment of the lower jaw. One out of three suffers from a hearing defect, and, of course, five out of six have poor occlusion of their teeth. Interestingly, the children with a cleft palate showed an I.Q. somewhat higher than that for a comparable group of normal children.

These much-handicapped children must be fixed up as well as can be before they start going to school. Otherwise, the teasing of other children will make life unbearable for them and may injure them psychologically.

GOOD ADVICE TO THOSE Who Suffer With Piles

Here is good advice to hundreds of persons who silently endure untold pain and misery from piles. You probably do not realize that there is a reason for this nagging, personal discomfort.

It is a medical fact that pain, itching and soreness of piles are greatly increased by INTERNAL CONSTIPATION and constipation. Your liver action is sluggish—intestinal wastes harden—straining at stool bruises delicate rectal membranes—blood clots settle in the bruised areas—painful lumps form. When this happens you want relief and you want it fast. If neglected it may become chronic. Then it can be most serious.

Now, quick relief is offered you with Hemoroid INTERNAL Pile Treatment (small tablets taken with water). This gently persistent medicine eases congestion—stimulates the flow of bile—weakens up and smoothly passes off intestinal waste—helps shrink the pile and permits them to heal. With the very first use of Hemoroid you get almost immediate relief through effective INTERNAL action. Piles do not come from an outside cause. They come from congested conditions inside the body. That is why an internal medicine like Hemoroid is so satisfactory to use—why hundreds of users have written their thanks for making Hemoroid available to them. Don't suffer needlessly. Hemoroid offers you real help. Ask at any drug store for Hemoroid—get 50 full days' supply at a surprisingly low cost. Test this grand medicine today. Money refunded if not delighted. Stop your needless suffering. Get quick acting Hemoroid NOW.

City's Share Of CD Costs $3,708 Less

Victoria's apportionment for civil defense in 1955 will be $3,708 less than it was last year, according to figures released by Greater Victoria Civil Defense Control Board, on Tuesday.

If figures are approved by council, the city will be required to put up $4,936, as compared with $8,516 in 1954. Reduction of staff and expenses generally are responsible for the change. Municipal financial obligations to Greater Victoria Control Board have been reduced this year by about 45 per cent, and total shares will be one-quarter of the 1955 budget.

CUTS FOR ALL

Saanich is slated to pay $2,029, compared with $3,543 in 1954; Oak Bay, $988 against $1,709 last year, and Esquimalt $494 compared with $886 in 1954. Provincial territory within the Greater Victoria target area paid $886 last year, but is budgeted for $502 this year.

Total municipal contributions, including Victoria, will likely be $8,623 this year, or $6,717 less than in 1954. Government grants will be $23,551, bringing the total budget for 1955 to $32,775. In 1954 it was $46,625. Last year provincial and federal governments each bore one-third of the total cost, with municipalities splitting the remainder.

In 1955, the federal government will contribute half the total, the provincial government will pay one-quarter and the municipalities will allocate the rest.

Fast-Moving Fantasy of Color, Ice Fiesta Bubbles With Fun

By TONY DICKASON

I saw a fairy tale last night—and it is all true!

Every endowed bit of it; two and one-half hours of muted and ecstatic color, lovely women; pageantry and motion which stirred feelings for beauty, in approximately 4,200 young and old hearts.

These were the "Ice Cycles," playing at the Memorial Arena. But "playing" is too harsh a word. Performing too does not do it. "Visioning there" is a better description.

Feature attraction of the 37 eye-shattering acts was "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," with Margaret Field as modest and pretty as a bluish, golden hair streaming over her blue outfit, and her prince, Jimmy Lawrence, as stalwart a hero on skates as ever awakened a princess by an icy kiss.

Expertly controlled lighting on all the scenes and acts, plus sumptuousness of costumes and excellence of performances, lifts the show into a continentally-top class.

PRECISE PERFECTION

Here are a few of the highlights:

The Pyne twins, as alike as two white snowdrops, in a precision performance, each a perfect reflection of the other's movements; Snow White, with the original voices from the Disney movie, which helped the audience hushed and attentive; a gigantic, coy two-part dog named Shasta which covets backwards, sideways, and in any other direction; Paul Castle, just 12 inches tall, who zooms around like a small comet.

As well, the "Diamond Jubilee of Light" an impressive and imaginative display, marking invention of the incandescent lamp; baton twirling by the Battistas, culminating with fast twirling, up, under and over, of torches in a blackened arena; dangerous adagio numbers by

Curtin and Hittle where the little blonde package of talent is swirled in an Apache style calculated to stand the small fry in their seats; Zanova, two times world champion, who ends her graceful act with one of the fastest spins in the business.

BEBUILDING BALLERINA

There was also comedy aplenty. In the "Bewitched Ballerina" Bobbie Miller enters to softened lights and the strains of "The Swan." He winds up with cowbells as accompaniment. A hard-working and talented pair, Setta and Labrecque—he's a Canadian from Montreal—clown it up with some ticklish antics which are just as difficult as they are funny.

In case you haven't realized it by now, the show is certainly well worth seeing. It plays every night this week at 8, and there's a special matinee Saturday at 2.30 p.m.

ENGLISH CRICKETERS SCORE 10TH VICTORY

MOUNT GAMBIER, Australia. (Reuters)—The English touring cricket team gained its 10th victory of the current tour here today with a clear victory of an innings and 177 runs over a south Australian country eleven.

The countrymen totaled 106 in their first innings and 45 in their second in reply to England's 328.

Lancashire fast bowler Brian Statham had a remarkable spell of six wickets for no runs in the countrymen's second innings. Each of his victims was clean-bowled.

BEST IN LEAGUE SAYS KING

Clancy Crying Kennedy Blues

(By The Canadian Press)

Theodore Kennedy is an all-star only in Toronto. The 29-year-old workhorse centre with Toronto Maple Leafs has never been elevated to an all-star position in the National Hockey League and coach King Clancy figures it's a crying shame.

"I think Kennedy is the best hockey player in the league," Clancy says. "Apparently a two-way player doesn't count any more. Everybody is looking for scorers."

Clancy wasn't happy when he looked over the NHL's mid-season list of all-stars Tuesday night and discovered that Kennedy's name was missing again.

TWO LEAFS ON

Two of his players, leftwinger Sid Smith and goaltender Harry Lumley, made it, though. That helped soothe the irritation but Clancy insists that Kennedy should have been given the call over the great Jean Beliveau of the second-place Montreal Canadiens.

"Kennedy does more back-checking in one game than Beliveau does in a week," King said. Clancy has no antipathy toward prolific scorers. The 23-year-old Beliveau has scored 24 goals so far this season and Clancy solemnly affirms there is a place for such boys in today's specialized game.

But, he also contends that players who perform more menial chores such as back-checking and penalty killing are just as important to the success of the team.

Soccer's 'Golden Boy' In Bad Books Again

LONDON (CP)—Wilt "Golden Boy" Mannion is making a second comeback in soccer in the face of possible censure action from two official sources.

The burly, blond 36-year-old inside forward, who has played 26 times for England in a tempestuous career, now plays for Hull City. But the man who has twice quit football in disgust, only to return, still is in something of a spot.

In his last "retirement" period, Mannion twice aroused official anger. First he wrote an article for a Sunday newspaper saying that a first division club had offered him a "bribe" of £3,000 if he would sign for it. The Football League management committee, which governs pro football, wanted to know the name of the team that made the illegal offer. Mannion refused to say.

In the same paper, Mannion made a selection for the weekly football pools, a national craze. This got him in hot water with the Football Association. The FA said that even if Mannion wasn't playing he was still on the books of his old club, Middlesbrough, and therefore had broken a rule which says players taking part in football coupon betting shall be permanently suspended.

Mannion replied with characteristic frankness. About the bribe, he said he had decided to "take the consequences" rather than name the team. And he said he made the pools selection several days before he signed for Hull and "I wasn't a player when I did that."

Mannion's past record has been stormy. He joined Middlesbrough in 1936 at the age of 17 and was hailed as the greatest young player since old-timer Cliff Bastin, star of Arsenal and England.

In 1945 he shook the soccer world by quitting, saying he was on a one-man strike against the "soccer slave system" of buying and selling players. His action was discussed even in the House of Commons.

A year later he was back with Middlesbrough. Early in 1952 he quit again. This time he explained: "It's taken me long enough but now I know—football is a dead-end game."

Fielder Threat To Horvath Now

The sun may not be shining but New Westminster Royals' Guyle Fielder is making considerable hay in the Western Hockey League individual scoring race.

With Edmonton's Bronco Horvath, the scoring leader for most of the season, currently out of action with an injury, defending champion Fielder is making a strong effort to overhaul Horvath.

Fielder scored one point Tuesday night and the six he picked up last week have pulled him to within eight points of Horvath's point lead. Horvath has 68 points on a league-leading 34 goals and 34 assists, while Fielder's 60 are made up of 13 goals and 47 assists.

Royals' playing coach Max McNab is tied for third with Calgary veteran Gerry Couture at 57 points, and Victoria's Ed Dorohoy holds fourth spot with 56.

The rough streak Cougars have hit recently has bumped Marcel Pelletier out of first place in the goalie ranks. Edmonton's Glen Hall leads the netminders with an average of 2.90 goals per game. Pelletier having a 3.04 mark.

Willie 'Tired' Of Ball

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UP)—Willie Mays, the Giants' fireball outfielder and most valuable player in the National League, confessed today, "I'm tired of baseball."

Mays arrived here from Puerto Rico for a rest after virtually an entire year of baseball. He must return to Puerto Rico in two weeks for more baseball in the winter league playoffs there.

The outfield sensation who led the National League batters with a fat 345 average last year and paced New York to the world series said he was home for a rest.

"I'm tired of baseball," he admitted. "I gotta be back for the playoffs down there in a couple of weeks. They'll be over the fifth (of February) and I'll report to the Giants about the fourth or fifth of March."

VANCOUVER, B.C. (BUP)—Manager Joey Vella said heavyweight Jimmy Walls of Bermuda would be instructed to try for a quick knockout when he meets South Africa's Johnny Arthur in a 10-round bout here tomorrow night.

Meanwhile, promoter Earle Kalani was hoping for a $10,000 gate. He reported advance ticket sales had passed the $1,100 mark Tuesday.

Bronze Gloves Boxing Draws Big Entry

Close to 60 entries have been received for the Bronze Gloves boxing championships at the Belmont High School, Station Road, Langford, on Saturday at 7.30. Colwood Boxing Club is sponsoring the competition.

Boys 16 and under from Port Alberni, Nanaimo, Qualicum, Chemainus, Sidney, Esquimalt and Victoria have entered the event. Referees will be Jack O'Hanley, Bert Wilkinson and Fred Curtis.

Fifteen different weight classes will range from 50 to 135 pounds. The Bronze Gloves winner will travel to Vancouver for the B.C. title meet.

Floyd in Awkward Spot

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — It behooves Floyd Patterson to begin putting on some solid weight pretty soon if the dazzling young boxer from Brooklyn is to live up to the promises of those who had been saying for the last several years that he can't miss winning the heavyweight title.

The "new Joe Louis" weighed only 166 pounds the other night when he bombed middleweight Willie "Troy" into submission. While it was a very impressive performance in every respect, the fact remained that Patterson was fighting at only a little more than he scaled when he swept the 1952 Olympic Games at Helsinki.

That strikes this corner as slow progress in the weight department. Even though the lad has just turned 20, it is high time he began making his move.

The Joe Louis to whom Patterson is being compared was a big man to begin with. At 20 the Brown Bomber weighed some 15 pounds more than Patterson does at the same stage, and he went steadily up to the 200-pound class.

The youth from Brooklyn finds himself in an awkward spot. He's too big for the middleweight division, in which considerable money can be made, and he's not yet nearly experienced enough to mess with the likes of Archie Moore, the ruler of the 175-pounders. He's got to pull himself up to that table and start eating if he's ever to reach a high-income bracket.

Though he is nothing to compare with the picture fighter that Patterson is right now, Paul Andrews, the 24-year-old former paratrooper who stopped Boardwalk Billy Smith in Miami Dec. 29, could well prove the more valuable property of the two if the Brooklyn beauty continues to lag on the scales.

The Greater Victoria Tenpin Bowling Association will hold its annual city championship tournament February 6 and 13, at Gibson's, team baubles being rolled for on the first rolling date and singles, doubles and all-events winners being decided on the later date.

Women trundlers will decide their new champions in team, singles, doubles and all-events February 20 and 27.

Attempting to maintain first rating in teams for the men will be Shaw Sheet Metal, who won the title last season with a 2,927 triple.

Ken Munn and George Motion will be defending their doubles crown, while south-paw Wilf Johnston will be out to again pick up the chips in the singles event.

Bob Bystedt will be defending champion in the all-events.

Arcades won the women's city team title last season, while Thelma Reeve captured the singles and then teamed with Lorraine Benner to win the doubles.

Dot Bennett was all-events champ.

Duff Williams topped the Victoria Women's Major Tenpin League with a 496 triple, while Tess Kamman shot a 186 single and 492 total.

Grid 'Peace Pact' Up for Discussion

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—Bert Bell, national football league commissioner, and representatives of the Canadian rugby union will meet next Saturday morning to discuss the proposed "peace pact" between the two football leagues.

Bell will meet with Ralph Cooper, president of the Canadian Big Four, and with representatives of the Hamilton Tiger Cats, the Montreal Alouettes, Ottawa Rough Riders and the Toronto Argonauts. The meeting is set for 10.30 a.m.

The Canadians, by a 3-1 vote, decided last week to honor NFL contracts and options in an effort to end a raiding of both loops for top talent.

Bell, who hailed the move as a step in the right direction, said the discussions would include the many legal phases involving player contracts.

The Canadian owners and Bell held similar discussions last July.

OTTAWA (BUP)—Each case must be considered separately in deciding whether income is taxable as profits or deductible as capital gain, Income Tax Appeal Board chairman Fabio Monet ruled today.

He granted the appeal of a grocer who sought to have $67,682 in profits, realized in the sale of real estate, deducted from his 1948 income as capital gain.

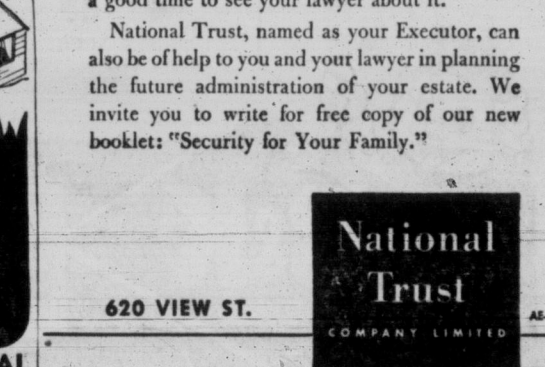

The revenue department had listed the rest as income because the grocer had engaged in a number of real estate transactions and owned considerable property.

Citing an Exchequer Court ruling, Monet held that each case should be weighed by itself. He said some of the grocer's transactions in real estate were designed strictly for profit while some of his sales were disposal of investments which had become onerous and "unprofitable."

GIANT BALLOON A LA MARDI GRAS

Caddy To Join May 24 Parade —If Folks Here Huff and Puff

Caddy may be an honored guest in Victoria's Empire Day parade.

Plans now afoot, which have yet to be agreed to by Greater Victoria's Empire Day committee, may mean the first appearance in Victoria of a giant balloon floats such as are featured annually in New Orleans' famous Mardi Gras.

A monstrous replica of Caddy, famed local sea phantom, is one of the many floats available. He comes in sizes from 80 to 150 feet long and about 25 feet high.

Other mammoth rubber productions include Snow White's seven dwarfs, a 30-foot wide squid, Humpty Dumpty, cowboys, Indians and St. George's dragon, to name a few.

Secretary of the Greater Victoria celebrations committee, Capt. Norman Foster, contacted a Newark, N.J., firm which provides giant balloons for parades all over the continent. Cost of bringing the eye-catching floats here has not been revealed.

DECISION FEB. 8

But the matter will be laid before the committee at its next meeting Feb. 8. It is considered likely that the scheme will be approved and various local merchants asked to sponsor a giant balloon each.

Retail merchants group of the Chamber of Commerce approved Monday a plan to hold Victoria's Empire Day parade on Saturday morning, May 21, "providing personnel are available to staff the parade."

The suggestion was made earlier by Ald. G. J. Edgewood in an attempt to win support of merchants who had been criticized in the past for lack of support in providing floats.

He thought the parade on a Saturday would draw crowds to the downtown section while stores are open.

"If businessmen see they are making money from the celebrations they are more apt to pay money to make them a success," he said.

HISTORY PAGEANT

The celebrations spread over three days. Early plans include a pageant of Victoria history which will be presented by 100 local amateur actors. Drill team and fireworks displays, May Queen crowning, a carnival, baseball, aquatic sports, an Indian regatta, street dancing and other features have been tentatively packed into the Saturday, Sunday and Monday (official holiday) schedule.

The committee is anxious to hear from citizens with regard to ideas for the celebrations. Public reaction to the idea of the giant balloons will help determine whether interest in the parade is sufficient to warrant their use, according to officials.

Celebrations chairman, M. F. Hunter, has stated opposition to the Saturday parade. He believes it should be as close to May 24, the traditional holiday, as possible.

$157,984 Will Contested by Ignored Husband

Estate of Mrs. Caroline Palmer Glover, who died in Victoria last March 25, is being contested in Supreme Court in Vancouver by her husband, 57-year-old Victor Bagshaw Glover.

Mrs. Glover left none of her $157,984 estate to her husband. Beneficiaries include Mrs. Caroline Shiers, 24 Sylvia Lane, who is a daughter of Mrs. Glover's previous marriage; and a grand-daughter, Kristine Shiers, of the same address.

Mr. Glover invoked the Testator's Family Maintenance Act.

(A Canadian Press dispatch from Vancouver last night, printed in the four-star edition of The Times, incorrectly reported that Mrs. Shiers was "the daughter of Mr. Glover by a previous marriage." The fact is that she is the daughter of Mrs. Glover by a former marriage, as reported above, and a grand-daughter, Kristine Shiers, of the same address.)

Safety Council Slated for City

"We hope to correlate all bodies interested in traffic safety in order to make a unified effort," he said.

CHIEF BACKS CC PLEA FOR 'BOBBY' HELMETS

Do citizens of Victoria want their "bobbies" back? The Civic Affairs group of the Chamber of Commerce intends to find out.

In case you haven't heard, a "bobby," strictly speaking, is a policeman who wears the London-type, pithy-looking helmet, discarded here by the Police Commission in 1949.

The chamber group, at least most members, feel that the "bobby" type helmet for the city's finest is an excellent thing as a tourist attraction.

Meeting Tuesday, they agreed to investigate the situation to see if civic authorities could not be persuaded to re-issue the helmets, at least to police in the dock area.

Police Chief John Blackstock said today he was in favor of the helmets. "I'd like to see them back again."

One constable said "there is nothing like 'em. They are showy and people can easily recognize a policeman."

In 1949 the police union came out against wearing the helmets.

Judge Castigates Immigration Branch

Department's Action in City Chinese Entry Case Ruled Circumvention of Law

Immigration officials are "fooling the public," Chief Justice Wendell B. Farris said in Vancouver today in refusing a writ of mandamus ordering the immigration department to reconsider its denial of a visa to a Chinese boy.

The writ was sought by Jong Tuck Hing, Victoria restaurant worker, who has been waging a four-year legal battle to get his son into Canada.

The boy, Jong Wing Sam, now 16, was refused a visa at Hong Kong by a Canadian immigration official who claimed that X-rays showed the youth was older than the Victoria man's son would be.

The writ sought a court order for re-examination of the boy in Hong Kong or a visa to allow him to come to Victoria and be examined.

Chief Justice Farris, who advised the Victoria man's counsel to continue diplomatic negotiations at Ottawa, said the immigration department is "fooling the public" by circumventing a provision of the Immigration Act requiring an examination at the point of entry.

The chief justice said the department circumvents this provision by designating an official abroad who has authority to refuse a visa which is necessary for a person to come to Canada for examination.

The only appeal from such refusal, he said, is to the minister of immigration, thus limiting the power of the courts in such matters.

APPEAL COURT INVESTIGATES BORSTAL SCHOOL CROWDING

Crown counsel T. P. O'Grady was instructed by the B.C. Court of Appeal today to ask if there was a shortage of accommodation for young offenders at the New Haven Borstal School.

The court's instruction followed a complaint by a 17-year-old youth that he was sentenced to New Haven but imprisoned at Oakalla instead because of lack of room at the young offenders' school.

The accused was Raymond Almas of Cloverdale, sentenced to nine months definite and six months indefinite periods to New Haven for stealing a car.

Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan asked Mr. O'Grady to find out what the conditions were at New Haven with regard to accommodation.

Mr. O'Grady was also asked to find out if a person who is sentenced to New Haven can legally be made to serve his time in another prison.

Refusal to Defend Himself Defeats Conviction Appeal

If an accused doesn't take the trouble to defend himself in court he can't expect the higher courts to assist him out of his difficulties, Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan told a prisoner in the Court of Appeal today.

Ralph Williams of Courtenay was appealing a conviction of receiving gasoline obtained through a stolen credit card. He was sentenced to three months imprisonment for the offense.

Williams told the court that people gave false evidence against him at his trial at Courtenay. The RCMP also tried to make him sign a statement that he had stolen the credit card, the prisoner said.

"I knew I couldn't get a fair trial in police court," he said. "I wanted to be tried by a County Court judge."

Chief Justice Sloan pointed out that the prisoner at his trial never attempted to defend himself, or call any witnesses on his behalf.

"You are the author of your own difficulty," said his Lordship. "But you completely ignored your own defense. Appeal dismissed."

Vancouver Interests' Purchase Of Growers Wine Co. 'Assured'

Sale of Growers Wine Co., Ltd., of Victoria, to a three-man syndicate of Vancouver businessmen is virtually assured.

Coleman E. Hall, hotel owner and sports figure, one of the three purchasers, told the Times today the sale would go through providing some 200,000 shares of the company's stock were deposited with Canada Trust company by Jan. 31.

Mr. Hall said the stock was coming in "very well and the 200,000 figure is nearly reached now."

"It looks very favorable," he said.

Associated with Mr. Hall in the venture is A. Donald Lauder, Vancouver investment broker. Mr. Hall declined to name the third man.

The three have reportedly offered $1,800,000 for the wine company. This would provide shareholders with $4.90 a share.

Warning Shots Stop Break-in Suspects

Charges Follow Thefts From Northern Electric

Two warning shots were fired Tuesday night in the James Bay district as four city detectives captured two suspects in a January 14 break-in at Northern Electric Co. Ltd., 1950 Blanshard.

Vernon Charles Reid, 32, 1619 Quadra, and Joseph Fraser, 19, also of 1619 Quadra, were remanded to Friday in city police court today for election of trial on two different charges.

Reid is charged with breaking and entering and theft from Northern Electric Co. Ltd. Fraser is charged with unlawfully retaining in his possession three radios and two electric razors over $25, property of the electric wholesale company.

It is understood about half the loot taken in the theft has been recovered.

Some were found in Saanich. During the course of investigation of the robbery detectives Alex Briggs, Angus Munro, Norm Bath and Louis Callan observed two men in a car on a James Bay street Tuesday night at about 8.

The car was driving along the street and when it came to a stop police said one of the men got out of the car.

When he noticed the detectives he fled.

Detectives Briggs and Munro gave chase and after two warning shots had been fired by Munro, the man stopped.

STAYED WITH CAR
Detectives Callan and Bath remained with the youth in the car while the chase was in progress.

Stolen in the Friday night burglary were 20 radios, 16 electric shavers, six food mixers and two toasters, total value of which is $1,579.

Entrance was gained by breaking a window facing Blanshard Street and releasing the catch.

It was the second time the city electric premises had been broken into in less than two months.

The premises were previously entered late in November and a number of radios stolen.

City MLA Attacks B.C. Use of War Law

Cancellation of drivers' licenses as a retaliatory measure against Sons of Freedom Doukhobors who refuse to send their children to school today was condemned by George F. Gregory, Victoria MLA.

It is authorized under wartime legislation and is "an assault on the freedom of the individual," he said.

He pointed out that the Public Schools Act and Protection of Children Act provide means, which have not yet been fully employed, to compel attendance of these children at school.

"There is no moral justification for trying to force Doukhobors concerned to send their children to school by the means employed here," he said.

He said that "even the attorney-general's most bitter political opponents" would agree with him that some firm action must be taken, and that while it seems at first "more like the Gestapo than our own police swooping down at dawn" to carry children away from their parents, the benefit conferred on the children as a result of receiving an education fully justifies the means employed.

DRASTIC ACTION
"What does offend me, however, is the use of drastic wartime legislation to cancel drivers' licenses of Sons of Freedom Doukhobors whose conduct, reprehensible though it may be, bears no relationship whatever to motor vehicles," he said.

"If a motorist persistently violates safe driving laws, let his driver's license be taken away. If a parent, be he a Son of Freedom Doukhobor or anyone else, violates the Public Schools Act by not allowing his children to attend school, let them be taken away by what force may be reasonably necessary and sent to school."

"But let us not tolerate any infringement of the freedom of the individual in matters which bear no relationship whatever to the conduct in question," Mr. Gregory said.

WAR MEASURE
"The License Forfeiture and Cancellation Act under which the attorney-general has acted was passed chiefly to deal with persons who failed to register under National Registration regulations, and was justified when it was enacted by the fact that this country was engaged in total war," he said.

"In my opinion, there is no justification whatever in allowing this law to remain on our statute books any longer, and I urge the attorney-general to introduce legislation at the session beginning next Tuesday to bring in a bill to repeal this invidious statute."

Plaques of Polished Bronze at Sale Prices

By PENNY SAVER

For music lovers in the group, here are a few items of interest to you... wall plaques of polished bronze bearing the head of Schubert, Wagner, or Chopin are selling at 20 per cent off... regularly $2.95, now only $2.36! They are beautiful pieces and would look very smart above the piano.

Another item for you... on sale are albums to hold your precious records. White or brown imitation leather with gold figures on the binding... and only $1.49 for two. They come in either the large or regular-sized albums... they save a lot of grief from broken records.

I came across some awfully cute figurines, too. They are little animals in white towns and gold wings. Each one is very musical... one carried a harp, one a red horn, and another a violin. There is even a little one dancing! They are finished in a shiny glaze, and cost 99 cents each. Here's an adorable set for a very reasonable price.

If you're in need of jewelry, I've found a place where everything in the jewelry line is going at half price. There are medallions, earrings, bracelets, and lovely "stone" sets. They range in price from 49 cents to $2.49.

I've never seen anything like this... Imagine! Parakeet lessons! Yes, for $3.95 you can buy a two-record album which gives instructions to the owner and the correct method to teach your parakeet to talk. On 78

r.p.m. unbreakable records, there are phrases such as "Pretty Boy," "Good Morning, Folks," "How About Breakfast," "Hi, Buster," and several more. This seems to me to be the easiest way to teach a parakeet... I know that I had to spend hours on end saying the same phrase over and over to my bird, now the record will do it for me. I'd advise that you move out when you turn the record on though! Cause, over and over and over again the records repeat the desired phrase. Each time, it is enunciated the same, even the voice inflection never varies. It is a wonderful idea... for the bird.

By the way, I saw some more marmalade oranges today... they are going down... down... two pounds for 23 cents now. Rhubarb is beginning to look better, too... 32 cents a stalk.

Housework Exercise Won't Keep Your Figure in Shape

When they say "It is a question of mind over matter," I guess they mean that if we make up our minds there won't be anything the matter with our figures!

Many women are troubled by bulges on the hips. It is difficult for them to understand how this could happen when they are active physically much of the day with their housework, and probably even indulge in some sports. The sad truth is that you do not use your muscles in your housework in the same way in which you do when executing special exercises.

If your hips are more than two inches larger than your bust you should do hip-reducing exercises. Today I would like to give you two of these exercises which are especially good:

1. Sit on the floor with your legs out in front of you and your hands on the floor, one hand on each side. Bend the knees up close to your abdomen, lean back a little, just far enough so that the body weight falls over the largest part of the hips. Now roll from side to side catching yourself, with your hands (right hand as you roll right and left as you roll to the left).

2. Stand with your left side toward the wall. Place your left hand on the wall for balance. Raise your right leg forward, bring it around to the side and backward as far as possible. Swing it forward again. In other words, make a large circle with the right leg going as far as you can in every direction.

After a while turn the right side toward the wall, place your right hand on the wall and swing the left leg in circles. If you would like to have my tested, hip-reducing exercises send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 3. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Should Elderly Man Marry Young Widow?

By ELIZABETH E. HURLOCK, PhD

When a young woman says she loves a man old enough to be her father, it is always questionable whether she loves him for himself or for what he can do for her. A man writes:

(Q) "I am 62 years old, have been a widower for the past 12 years, and have three married children. Last winter, at church, I met a young woman, a widow, who was very sweet and kind to me. I started going to see her. She has two children, both girls. One is six and the other four. They seem to like me very much and I have become so devoted to their mother that I am considering marrying her, though she is just the age of my older daughter. I mentioned this to my children. The other evening and they got very upset. They say they would be happy if I remarried but, as my son put it, 'This woman just wants a meal ticket.' She doesn't seem like that type of woman to me and I wonder if my children are not afraid they will be left out if I remarry. By that, I mean they may have counted on my money when I am gone. Would I be foolish to marry this woman?"

(A) You would be foolish to marry a woman the age of your daughter, especially one with such young children. This young woman may love you for yourself, but I am inclined to agree with your son that it is more likely that she wants a source of support for herself and her children. Have you stopped to think what life would be like with two little girls around all the time? No matter how much you may like little children, could you, at your age, stand the noise and confusion that are inevitable in a home where there are young children?

Then there is the matter of being tied down. You and your wife could not go out and do things together unless you made provisions for the children. Are you anxious to become a night "babysitter" or do you want to have some fun while you are still able to enjoy it?

Why not consider marrying a woman more nearly your own age, and one whose interests would be more in line with yours? I am sure you would find such a person just as "sweet and kind" as the woman you are now thinking of marrying and she would certainly be more congenial.

As a special service to our readers, Dr. Hurlock has written a 64-page booklet, "You and Your Problems." For your copy send 15c in coin with a self-addressed stamped envelope to this newspaper.

Former Ice Cycles Star Still Misses Big Show

Mrs. Clem Patterson and Mark Ross... she'd love to be "back skating."

By TERRY FRENCH
Among interested first-nighters at Victoria Memorial Arena, Tuesday evening, for premiere showing of the Ice Cycles of 1955 were Mr. and Mrs. Clem Patterson of Victoria—both one-time members of the show.

Mrs. Patterson is the former Jane Tinsley of Regina and Vancouver. She joined the Ice Cycles when she was 16 and stayed with them for four years, during which time she travelled all over Canada, the United States and even had a jaunt to England.

Line coach for a year and a half, Mrs. Patterson remembers that the troupe practiced about five hours a day for several months before going on the road, and often at odd hours during the tour. "In Pittsburgh once we practiced from midnight until about 5 o'clock in the morning," she said. "Sure we were tired, but always ready to go."

Both boys and girls had to weigh in every week, so that outside of keeping up their strength, they all had to keep "down to weight."

The role of housewife is quite a change from the show's strenuous routine for this attractive young woman who had to learn to cook and do housework after her marriage. "I didn't have much time for housework while I was on the road," she'll tell you. "What with skating five and six hours a day and trying to finish my schooling by correspondence, I was pretty busy."

Asked if she enjoyed the general routine of housework after leading such a busy and interesting life with the show, she shook her head and said "I don't think anyone really enjoys housework, they simply become accustomed to it. If it were possible, I'd love to be back skating."

Clem and Jane skated in the same troupe for a year before they were married and came back to Victoria—Clem's home town—to live.

What about young Mark Ross? "We're going to get him on skates just as soon as he's steady on his feet," Jane said. "but he doesn't have to be a figure skater. I'll settle for a hockey player."

SPEAKER URGES

Give Women Auxiliary Place in Hospital In Professions A Real Break

LEAMINGTON, Ont. (CP)—A woman business executive has called on all women to boycott male lawyers and doctors, and to give their business instead to professional women in the same fields.

"If we're going to get any place in the world, we'll have to support each other," Mrs. Vera Green, treasurer and sales manager of a machine tool company, told the local Business and Professional Women's Club, Sunday.

"To do this, you will need courage, because it takes courage to be different and uncommon," she said.

She also urged professional women to "hang on to charm and femininity."

"Too many women lose good positions because they become bossy and authoritative."

At a recent meeting of the Xi Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, plans were made for a late February Spring Tea to be held in the Douglas room, Hudson Bay Co. The cultural program was led by Iris Stewart, assisted by Dorothy Roberts speaking on fishing of Vancouver Island, and Catherine Dash, speaking on lumbering on Vancouver Island.

Auxiliary Place in Hospital Explained by Commissioner

Role of a good woman's auxiliary in a long-term hospital includes tangible and intangible services, Donald Cox, B.C. Hospital Insurance commissioner, told members of the Gorge Road Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary in annual meeting, Tuesday evening.

In the field of tangible services comes the continuing need for additions and replacements to furnishings and equipment, sewing and mending, visiting the patients and in assisting in provision of facilities for occupational and diversional therapy.

"One of the greatest intangible services is the manner in which a good auxiliary interprets the function and the needs of the hospital to the community through the daily contact of its members with the public in a way that no one else could do," Mr. Cox said.

Mrs. George Masters spoke to the gathering on the Provincial Association of Hospital Auxiliaries, interpreting the set-up, function, what an auxiliary gets through joining such an association, and in turn, what the auxiliary gives to association in experience and knowledge. Mrs. C. C. Warren presided and in her annual report showed that the auxiliary had achieved its goal in the past year—$10,000 for the furnishing fund of the new hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Shorthouse Now In Hawaii; Will Live in Nelson

A wedding of interest to Victorians took place in the Canadian Memorial Chapel, Vancouver, recently, in which Marjorie Mildred Whitmore, RN, and Thomas Stanley Shorthouse were united in marriage. The bride, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. Whitmore of Vancouver, and sister of Dr. E. Whitmore, Victoria, was with the Klamath Hospital and served in Germany and France during the war.

She chose an original gown of champagne satin featuring a fitted bodice with panel cascading into fullness at the back. Her only jewelry was the gift of the groom, a strand of pearls with matching earrings.

A jeweled satin headress held her chapel-length champagne colored veil, and she carried a spray of chartreuse and bronze orchids.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Robert H. Macdonald of Vernon chose a russet brocade satin gown. A small cloche with velvet leaves in mushroom shade complemented her dress, and she carried gold chrysanthemums.

Flower girl was the bride's niece, Joan Whitmore, of Victoria, who wore a blue ruffled dress and a matching coronet of flowers. She carried a nosegay of yellow chrysanthemums and pink carnations.

Robert H. Macdonald was best man, while the groom's son, Thomas Shorthouse, Jr., ushered. Rev. George Turpin, D.D., officiated at the ceremony, and soloist was David Williams.

A reception was held at "The Hollies", where Mr. Macdonald proposed the traditional toast to the bride, which was followed by a toast by Dr. E. Whitmore, Victoria, to the bride's parents, who will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on February 2. The groom's young daughter, Silvia Shorthouse, helped in serving at the reception.

For her going-away outfit, Mrs. Shorthouse chose a tailored brown soft wool suit and a yellow cloche hat complemented by brown feathers. She wore a three-quarter length Canadian squirrel coat and yellow accessories en tone.

Mr. and Mrs. Shorthouse are spending their honeymoon in Honolulu and will live in Nelson, B.C., upon their return.

Commissioner Hands Out Bronze Arrowhead Papers

By FREEMAN KING

Roll call of the Dunsmuir Group was increased last week at a "going up" ceremony when Michael Banfield, Stewart King, Bob McLean and Barry Warner were inducted—Bronze Arrowhead certificates were presented to Dave Bule, Dick Hobbs, Bill Hennels, Bruce Davie and Lorne Merritt.

Royal Oak Troop Sunday went for a bush hike, cooking dinners in the open and carrying out search and rescue parties.

The Gorge Vale Troop was visited by executive commissioner Robert Milks, who presented Bronze Arrowhead Certificates to W. Kingsted, D. Churchill, R. Edwards and S. White.

Patrol leaders of the Jordan River Troop will be invited to Victoria Scouts when they attend the patrol leaders' conference here Jan. 29.

Keatings Group will hold a "Bee" to help complete construction of their Scout Hall on Central Saanich Road.

At the pack meeting of the Third Victoria Group, Brian and Bruce Bennett were invested as Wolf Cubs and received their badges. Rover crew of this group are planning a "Pirates' Night" in the near future.

Frank L. Beebe, official of the Provincial Museum, will take over the troop for the Marigold Group.

The Chinese Troop at a recent meeting constructed a rope "monkey bridge" strong enough to carry the whole troop at once. First and second star tests were carried out.

The Third Mount Tolmie Troop has been formed with G. Cowley as troop leader and G. Lewis and B. Gregg as patrol leaders.

CHAPTER XIII NEVER RESIGN!—RETIRE

"Never resign. Wait until you are fired." This was the advice given by the late Tim Healy, once a tremendous figure in Westminster and now almost forgotten on this side of St. George's Channel, a sad and sobering thought on the speed with which oblivion does its work. True indeed is it that "them that plants them is soon forgotten." I picture Tim as he spoke, his eyes, as always dancing behind lenses which magnified them to saucer-size, the inevitable glass in his hand, and the humorous mouth upon which fun and wisdom never ceased to bubble.

As I resigned from government posts, it cannot be said that I acted on Tim's advice. But it was good advice.

A man feels slighted. Some recommendation of his may have been turned down too abruptly. He finds he cannot have his way. He feels neglected. So he resigns. His resignation damages his own interests and is a nuisance to his firm. It is much better for him to continue at work and seek other means of securing acceptance for his policy. To try to enforce it by resignation weakens his authority. If he prevails, his future in the firm will be uncomfortable. If he fails, and his resignation is accepted, the policy for which he fights will lack a champion.

Therefore, I say that a man should not resign. There is such a thing as a "resigning mind." Beware of this vice. But retirement is an entirely different matter. The business man who has achieved success should consider and meditate upon the need to retire.

That may seem to be heartless counsel, but it is sound. If enterprise is to flourish and expand, the young must be given a chance. And that is impossible where the old are cluttering up the road to promotion. I agree with Bacon's observation:

"Men of age object too much, consult too long, adventure too little, repent too soon, and seldom drive business home to the full period, but content themselves with a mediocrity of success."

That is why they should get out, before their hardened intellectual arteries destroy the good work done in their prime. Retirement is neither a punishment nor a triumph. It is a necessary part of life. But let there be no mistake, when I urge a man to retire I do not mean that he should retire from active life. On the contrary, I say that he should change his occupation. He should embrace what may prove to be an even more purposeful life by engaging in entirely new activities. Because change rejuvenates.

I have myself lived four separate lives. First I engaged in banking and promoting finance. Then I entered politics, serving in Lloyd George's government. And when I retired from politics it was to produce newspapers. The fourth life, brief but packed with the stuff of history, began when I undertook cabinet duties under Churchill as the minister of aircraft production. It was not as a politician that I plunged into this fourth life. Politics were ignored. Cabinet ministers had no influence with me. My production colleagues were drawn from industry. This record is brief and their names cannot be mentioned. They joined me in going all out for

Victory a Habit

The temptation is subtle, but the logic is wrong. Success is rarely a process which can be reproduced indefinitely in the same field. The dominant mind may lose its elasticity; it may fail to appreciate real values under changed conditions. Victory has become a habit rather than a struggle.

But let there be no mistake, when I urge a man to retire I do not mean that he should retire from active life. On the contrary, I say that he should change his occupation. He should embrace what may prove to be an even more purposeful life by engaging in entirely new activities. Because change rejuvenates.

I have myself lived four separate lives. First I engaged in banking and promoting finance. Then I entered politics, serving in Lloyd George's government. And when I retired from politics it was to produce newspapers. The fourth life, brief but packed with the stuff of history, began when I undertook cabinet duties under Churchill as the minister of aircraft production. It was not as a politician that I plunged into this fourth life. Politics were ignored. Cabinet ministers had no influence with me. My production colleagues were drawn from industry. This record is brief and their names cannot be mentioned. They joined me in going all out for the simple purpose of providing airplanes.

Ruthless Methods

There were plenty of pilots for the battlefield, but many lacked "mounts." Upon our ability to provide planes depended the nation's safety.

Important political persons could not be allowed to stand in our way. We pushed them aside. I told them to go "jump in the river." That is how we succeeded in mobilizing on the instant the necessary resources of labor and materials in the face of opposition from the obstructionist. Ernest Bevin who objected to our labor demands cried out loudly but the roar of oncoming enemy planes drowned his futile lamentations.

We had to deal as ruthlessly with some military brass hats who took no part in the battle, but added to our difficulties with their foolish objections. When they resisted we made well considered counter-attacks.

We just managed to meet the demands of the Battle of Britain, with only a handful of planes left in our storage units. Thereafter our output overtook the numbers of pilots who were fully trained and available for war duty, but wanting airplanes.

At last there were more planes—more planes than pilots. Did I enjoy this fourth life that was so intensely lived? I did. But the good time was certainly not shared by some of the ministry's delinquent contractors, and their voluble apologists.

In each of these lives I have experienced fulfillment and happiness. I have renewed my youth. Now, at 75, I seek yet another outlet for my activities. A man does not run down his batteries by changing his interests: he recharges them. He replenishes himself by feeding his faculties on different tasks and new problems.

What I advocate as suitable for a man's re-employment is not a mild hobby at which he can gently doze, but a real job. The work he chooses should be vital work. It should be charged with the stimulus of responsibility. It should plague him with doubts and worries. It should bring upon him triumphs and disasters. In short, it should keep him occupied.

By that means he may conceivably become immune from Bacon's shrewd criticism of the weaknesses of old men. He will certainly save himself from a life of boredom. The uplifting effect will be enormous, although only by experience can its full benefit be understood.

Chamber Seeking Money for Survey On Amalgamation

Civic affairs group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce hopes to hear "within a few days" from the junior chamber whether or not Jaycees will come forward with $2,500 to participate in the $5,000 cost of an initial survey on municipal amalgamation.

Group chairman Don Smith made this report Tuesday at a noon meeting in the Pacific Club.

A committee will be selected by Mr. Smith to approach the two local radio stations and industries to enlist support for the Canadian Chamber of Commerce broadcast "Five Minutes for Freedom." The program, carried last year by 70 Canadian radio stations, is designed to point up the economic freedoms which have made Canada great. The chamber group believes the broadcasts are of sufficient value to receive mention at group meetings in industry as well.

Intimate Stage Actresses Score In Heavy Drama

Sincerity Keynotes Arena-Style Walpole

For its first full-length production at the Arts Centre, Intimate Stage selected "The Old Ladies," a dramatization of one of Walpole's stories.

Three stories carry the full weight of the heavy drama throughout its three acts and that these Victoria actresses succeeded in sustaining their roles and conviction and force in the arena style, is a tribute to their exceptional talents.

Gwen Downes, Constance Ellis and Mary Measures played the poverty-stricken, old women under the dynamic direction of Flora Nicholson.

Great sincerity was a keynote throughout, particularly in the part of Miss Ellis, whose long and difficult portrayal of a woman nervous and ill with a heart condition was dramatically and sympathetically conceived.

Gwen Downes presented a vivid picture of a menacing and fey old creature, bringing to it skilful touches of light and shade. Mary Measures, an accomplished actress with a finely polished technique, brought equal understanding to her part though she appeared a trifle young.

Pace was excellent and good sets, combined with the use of the staircase and gallery of the Centre, showed strong inventiveness and imagination. Lighting was well arranged and quite adequate.

Refused Parole.—The interior ministry has refused to parole "Jacques Morand," who murdered Leon Trotsky here in 1940, ruling he is too dangerous a man to set free.

Two doctors warned the ministry the pickaxe murderer is still "potentially dangerous," and a judge advised it would be virtually impossible to enforce parole regulations in his case.

THE man who loved dogs...

"BOB MARTIN'S"—It's a household name today. How did it start? The story begins with one man, a man who loved dogs.

The late Robert William Martin spent a lifetime in the study and care of dogs. He knew that show-dogs had to be fit to win. Thus was formulated what he was later to term a "condition powder," which brought dogs into perfect condition and kept them there.

Breeders used this preparation with such success that early in this century it was decided to make the preparation available to the public.

Today, from the Bob Martin Laboratories at Southport, England, Condition Tablets are despatched to nearly every part of the globe.

Why do millions of dogs throughout the world have their Bob Martin's regularly? Why should your dog need conditioning?

Well, for one thing, it is almost impossible for you to give him an ideal diet these days. And the exercise you give him may not always be enough. For these reasons, the average dog is not thoroughly fit. That is why you so often see such symptoms as listlessness, loss of appetite, excessive scratching and poor coat. They're all signs of loss of condition well known to the experienced dog-owner.

WHAT'S IN BOB MARTIN'S?
Bob Martin's Condition Tablets contain liver, which supplies minerals needed by the body, vitamins A and D and vitamins of the B group. These vitamins and minerals are vitally necessary for doggy good health and they are the ones your dog often doesn't get in his food. By improving his appetite and making sure he gets the full nourishment from his food, and by toning-up the dog's whole system, they provide a natural safeguard against loss of condition.

Have a look at your dog! Do you see any of the danger signals given below?

If your dog is listless, moody or lacking in energy; if he leaves his dinner half finished or eats it without enthusiasm; if his coat looks lifeless, dull and thin, or if he scratches a great deal; then he's out of condition.

Deal with this loss of condition at once, before it seriously affects his health! Give Bob Martin's Condition Tablets regularly.

When you see the difference this simple treatment makes, then ask yourself: Is my dog brim full of energy, bursting with high spirits?

Does he wolf down his dinner and leave the plate as clean as a whistle?

Has he a splendid coat, bright eyes and a cold damp nose?

If you can say "Yes" to all three, then you know he's in perfect condition...

...and that's Bob Martin condition!

Two FOR THE Show

By PHIL LEE

AA—Oscar Class A—Doc's Miss BB—Worthwhile C—Fut. B—Baby Attraction D—Took to Town

SHOWBIZ—Who is winning the fight between the motion pictures and television? According to all statisticians at hand, the answer is—D.

For there appears to be evidence aplenty that there is room for both, not as competitors but as one gigantic, interlocking industry.

ONCE THERE WERE TWO sets of actors—those who appeared on the films and those who appeared on the home screens. But what has happened? Some Hollywood studios are knocking out half-hour and hour-long "quickies" for home consumption. Some star familiar film faces while others feature the physiognomies of the shining lights of TV. And TV? It is more and more garnering the crowd-pulling names of established Hollywood "greats."

When TV first became a household name in North America, theatregoers began staying home in droves. In 1952 the film industry, according to the Motion Picture Almanac, grossed an all-time low of $1,100,000,000, and in 1953 patrons skidded from a high of $2,000,000,000 in 1946 to $1,400,000,000.

BUT THE MOVIE MOGULS hung on and fought back. They started searching for good stories. When they found them they turned them out carefully and made fewer. They experimented with 3-D, with Cinemascope, VistaVision, Cinemascope, Stereophonic sound until their patience and ingenuity were rewarded.

In the second quarter of 1954 the crisis was passed and the eight-year slump was over. In July attendance had jumped to 72.5 million.

AND WHERE WERE THE patrons coming from? Who were those who crowded the seats again, happily munching their popcorn? Why all those who had deserted the theatre for TV, of course. A survey showed they came from areas which had had TV the longest time.

If reports are true, Victoria theatres are feeling the pinch at the present moment. In the greater city area 3,000 seats were sold in a three-month period prior to Christmas. Altogether there are somewhere in the neighborhood of 10,000 seats in Greater Victoria.

It simply stands to reason that our TV owners will be haunting their living rooms until the thrill has gone and the lure of the popcorn trail beckons once again.

And it will, eventually. All the old film fans will be back. But they'll be back not as deserters of TV but as men, women and children able and ready to enjoy both.

Hi-Fi Outfit Demonstrated To Kiwanians

The ballroom at the Empress Hotel had an odd appearance at noon Tuesday.

Members of the Victoria Kiwanis Club sat staring at a huge apparatus on the stage, listening intently.

The apparatus in question was a hi-fidelity recording outfit, brought to the luncheon by guest speaker Henry Stubbings.

President of the Victoria-Recorded Music Society and proprietor of "Harmony House," a hi-fi hi-fidelity record shop.

Mr. Stubbings demonstrated the reproductive qualities of "hi-fi," as it is called, and explained some of the intricacies of the machine.

WHAT IT MEANS
"Hi-fidelity is a loosely-used term," the told members, "and perhaps needs a little explaining. Fidelity means truth and in music, hi-fidelity is the true and accurate reproduction of the sound spectra."

"It is not something new, although it is only within the past two or three years that it has swept across North America. Hi-fidelity recording first began in England about 25 years ago, he told the club.

Ordinary records and record-players will reproduce most of the sounds produced by an orchestra," he said, "but they do not cover the full range, do not pick up the true timbre and the over-tones. Hi-fidelity does. It has the necessary qualities for reproducing everything accurately, even harmonics."

DEMONSTRATES RANGE
Mr. Stubbings demonstrated the range of the machine with a number of recordings. He began with recordings of a train in a depot and a subsequent journey. It was this sound which caught the attention of the audience, many of whom said they could feel the actual motion of the train from the sounds.

Following the opening piece he played a series of musical selections ranging from jazz to classical, and finishing with Sir Winston Churchill's introduction to the Queen on her Coronation. The Queen's address and the playing of the National Anthem.

Third Member of B.C. Family Killed by Bull
VANCOUVER (CP)—Hugh H. McDonald, 66, will be buried here Thursday, third member of a pioneering British Columbia farming family to be gored to death by a bull.

The accident occurred last week at his suburban Sea Island farm. Two other members of his family, Duncan McDonald, an uncle, and Fred May, a cousin by marriage, were also killed by domestic bulls.

Provincial, Ottawa Tax Deal to Stay

OTTAWA (BUP) — Federal provincial-fiscal relations will continue for several years on the present footing, parliamentary sources predicted yesterday.

Members of the government and opposition parties, studying the prime minister's new proposals to iron out double-taxation problems in Quebec province, believed there would be no major upset in any other province.

They said Quebec probably will continue to be the only hold-out against a federal-provincial tax rental agreement.

The new plan involved an offer by the federal government to release any other province from its agreement if it wanted to impose a provincial income tax.

The ROK government issued a special statement saying Kim had confessed and that his sanity was under investigation.

24,600 More Persons Applying For Jobs in Dec. Than Year Ago

OTTAWA (BUP) — There were 362,700 persons seeking jobs through the National Employment Services' offices in mid-December, the Labor Department reported today.

This was an increase of 24,600 over the number of job applications on file a year earlier, and a jump of 64,100 in the period between Nov. 18 and Dec. 9.

The department and the Bureau of Statistics issued their monthly survey of the employment situation. It showed that both employment and unemployment had increased from the previous year. More people had jobs and more people were looking for jobs.

EDMONTON (CP)—A riot was reported to have broken out today in the provincial jail at Fort Saskatchewan, 20 miles northeast of Edmonton. About six cars of RCMP officers carrying tear gas and ammunition were sent to the jail from Edmonton. J. J. The jail warden refused to answer telephone queries. RCMP headquarters also refused to give details.

Farmers Ask Ottawa For Higher Prices

200,000-Member Farm Union Council Calls For Two-Price System to Aid Dented Revenues

OTTAWA (CP)—The 200,000-member Inter-provincial Farm Union Council today called on the government to create a two-price system for Canada's farm products adjusting domestic prices on the basis of changes in living costs.

The council, headed by chairman J. L. Phelps, said in a cabinet submission the proposal may increase consumer prices, but argued that it would eliminate most of Canada's urban unemployment. Organized labor now was completely behind the plan, it said.

Farmers, whose net income had dropped by almost $1,000,000 in the last three years would get millions of dollars in new purchasing power.

The two-price system—one for domestic buyers linked to living costs, another for foreign buyers based on supply and demand and both hooked to extensive federal price proposals—has been aired in previous council meetings with the cabinet. But there is a difference now, said the council.

On previous occasions, it said, Prime Minister St. Laurent said the idea was fine in theory, but that it would be opposed by organized labor since it would raise consumer prices. "We are pleased to report that since that time we have gained the support of Canadian labor unions for this principle. They themselves made a similar proposal in a recent submission to this government. Labor unions agree with farm unions that unless farmers enjoy fair and adequate incomes, wage earners are in danger of losing their jobs or having their take-home pay reduced.

COMPLETE ANSWER

"We believe that organized labor's present attitude provides a complete answer to the only objection raised by the prime minister to our farm price proposal. We take it, therefore, that the way now is open for the government to take appropriate action without further delay."

The council delegation was to meet with a cabinet group in Agriculture Minister Gardiner's office.

Eisenhower Wants UN To End China Fighting

President Would Like Cease-Fire Arranged

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he would like to see the United Nations try to arrange a cease fire between the Chinese Nationalists and Red China's attacking forces.

The president told a press conference that he does not know whether the UN would be able to do anything about halting the shooting, but he said he would like to see its good offices to seek a ceasefire.

The president's remarks came atop a statement by Secretary of State Dulles Tuesday that the United States would offer no objections to the United Nations' seeking a ceasefire. Dulles' statement created a sensation in Formosa, stronghold of the Chinese Nationalists.

At the beginning of the conference Eisenhower discussed the military significance of the capture of Nationalist-held Hsiangshan, about eight miles northwest of the Tachen group by Communist amphibious forces.

He said that no military authority had rated this small island, or indeed the Tachens themselves, as an essential part of the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores. He noted that the United States is committed to the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores by the mutual security treaty which has been sent to the Senate for ratification.

The president said the Tachen Islands are of value as an outpost and an observation post but they are not a vital element, as the United States sees it, in the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores. AP correspondent Spencer Moosa at Taipei reported that qualified sources indicated the Chinese Nationalists would reject any idea of a cease-fire. A cease-fire in effect would

LETHAL CD BOMBS STOLEN

CALGARY (CP)—Calgary schoolboys are playing with death in the form of stolen civil defense practice incendiary bombs, fire prevention bureau officials said today. If lit, the bomb's magnesium core burns at 4,500 degrees Fahrenheit with a blinding glare, eating through floors, metal shovels and pails. And if water or carbon dioxide is applied, an explosion will result throwing particles of molten metal as much as six feet.

end Chinese Nationalist hopes of ever returning to the mainland.

Moosa said Chinese Reds hurled a 200-plane raid—haviest of the civil war—against the vital Tachen islands today in a possible prelude to invasion.

The Nationalist warplanes struck back with "punitive attacks" on Communist armed vessels along the southeast China coast and in the Amog and Swatow areas. The defense ministry said heavy losses were inflicted. The Nationalists called the attacks a retaliatory measure against the "indiscriminate bombing" of the Tachens.

Eight miles north of the Tachens, the ministry said, guerrillas "fighting in pools of blood" were still resisting the Yikiangshan island.

U.K. To Concentrate On Airpower Defense

Will Turn Back on Traditional Sea Power; Ground Forces to Get New Atomic Age Look

LONDON (UP)—Britain will turn its back on centuries of traditional naval power next month and acknowledge air power as its first line of defense, official sources said today.

The sources said the Royal Air Force, pioneer of war in the skies, at last will be recognized as the main element of defense in the 1955-56 arms blueprint due to be published in February.

The annual defense white paper will follow the lead of the United States and Britain's NATO partners in giving priority to air power and tactical atomic bombs, the sources said.

Informed sources also said Britain's far-flung ground forces will get an atomic age new look. Large contingents will come home from overseas positions in Malaya and Kenya and Egypt to form a central strategic reserve, a "riot squad" ready to roll into any global trouble spot.

The plan, to be completed by mid-February, covers a £1,600,000 ($4,400,000,000) arms outlay for 1955. It is based on greater reliance on air power, latest-type weapons and greater mobility of troops.

President Eisenhower's budget presented Monday estimated expenditures for the air force at $15.6 billion, or $400 million more than this year, highest in peace-time history.

His plan has been approved in principle by the city of Vancouver but has been held up by Richmond municipality, says Mr. Swan, because no garbage collected in the metropolitan area be used to build up a tract of tidal land at the mouth of the Fraser River.

His plan has been approved in principle by the city of Vancouver but has been held up by Richmond municipality, says Mr. Swan, because no undertakings have been given that the garbage would be dumped under "controlled" conditions.

Dumping, he says, can be done in such a way that rats and flies are not attracted and the garbage does not float on the water or pollute the air.

Location of the proposed garbage-burnt park, christened Belle Ile by Mr. Swan, would be northwest of suburban Sea Island. His man-made delta would be 36 square miles, in a scenic setting dotted with trees, lakes, pools, gardens and lawns.

Mr. Swan envisions a Belle Ile with botanical gardens, spacious lawns, flower beds, hothouses, sheltering date palms, bananas and other tropical fruit and plants.

'NO ONE CAN TALK YOU OUT OF IT—ABSOLUTELY NOT'

Pleas of Daughter, 16, Ignored By Leader of Boston Prison Siege

BOSTON (UP)—A pretty 16-year-old girl pleaded in vain today with her father and three other besieged convicts to surrender themselves and 11 hostages at Massachusetts state prison.

The girl, Toby Green, talked through a window with her bank robber father, Theodore (Teddy) Green, leader of the insurgent convicts.

Her appeal, the second in 14 hours, lasted a few minutes. Toby, a brilliant high school student, previously talked Sunday night by telephone with her father. That time, like today, he refused to give up.

The Boston Post reported the conversation in a copyrighted story. Toby made the call from the newspaper's office. The following parts of the conversation were reported by the Post:

Toby—What are you doing?
Green—Just sitting around. The boys are playing cards, listening to the radio and things like that—having a lovely time!

Toby—Can I come to talk to you? Please?

Green—No, honey, because it is a little rough situation now. You have been through enough, poor little girl.

Toby—I want to see you.
Green—I know, honey, but it isn't right. You will have me break down and crying."

Toby—And no one can talk you out of it? Green—Absolutely not.

A tank was pressed into service today in an effort to break up the revolt that has lasted more than 30 hours.

State public safety commissioner Otis M. Whitney, head of the state police, said the tank would be "held in readiness until things start humming." He did not elaborate.

Green, a notorious bank robber and escape artist, told Warden John J. O'Brien that "for every shot fired at us, for every tear gas bomb, one of your screws (guards) or an inmate dies!"

Randall Moves To Ensure May Racing

Rezoning Bid Set for Sandown

Colwood Park Association will make application to the North Saanich Zoning Board of Appeal "as soon as practical" to rezone Sandown Park, near Sidney, for horse racing and an agricultural fair.

W. A. Randall, Vancouver representative of the association, said today he still hopes to have a racing meet under way by May 21.

The zoning board Tuesday refused the association's application to build a grandstand and other buildings on the grounds that the plans for the property were not "rural use."

Procedure following receipt by the zoning board of the application to rezone calls for a public meeting, when interested parties can state their views on the application. The board then makes its own decision.

Mr. Randall asked the board Monday to sanction his plans, saying he expected the fair could be considered rural use of property and that the permit could be granted immediately.

"The only inconvenience this new development will cause will be delay—assuming that our application is successful," Mr. Randall said. "With luck we will make good on our original plan to start May 21."

He said a 1,400-seat grandstand and other buildings are the chief needs at the site, on the west side of the Patricia Bay Highway, a few hundred yards north of the airport. With the exception of a bit of drainage the track is in shape, he said.

VANCOUVER (CP)—A retired businessman has devised a garbage disposal method that would create a park of the size of Vancouver's famed Stanley Park.

garbage collected in the metropolitan area be used to build up a tract of tidal land at the mouth of the Fraser River. His plan has been approved in principle by the city of Vancouver but has been held up by Richmond municipality, says Mr. Swan, because no

Hostile Freedomites Keep RCMP on Edge

Doukhobor Settlement of Krestova Bitter After Police Seize 40 School-Age Children

(Compiled from BUP, CP Dispatches)

KRESTOVA, B.C.—Royal Canadian Mounted Police kept a close watch on this embittered Doukhobor settlement today after 40 school-age children were routed from their homes Tuesday and taken into custody for forced school attendance.

Some 50 Royal Canadian Mounted Police and welfare workers raided the small ramshackle settlement at dawn and captured the children, who ranged in age from seven to 12. The children were bundled into waiting school buses and taken to New Denver, 50 miles away, where they will be forced to attend school.

The round-up was the first big raid on this mountain-top settlement of the radical Russian religious Sons of Freedom.

The children were made on a Freedomite centre since the drive began to force the children into school.

RCMP from Nelson, 20 miles away, were keeping a close watch on the community, considered the "capital" of the Freedomites, today for a possible outbreak of arson or nude parading in protest against the seizures.

In Victoria, Attorney-General Robert Bonner said the raid was just a continuation of the government's policy to force Freedomite children into schools.

The children are being cared for at a converted sanitarium at New Denver on the shores of Skookum Lake, about 50 miles from here.

The Freedomites, who claim that Canadian education leads to wars and strife, are blamed for recurring outbreaks of arson and nude parading that has plagued the Kootenay area in southeastern B.C. for more than 20 years.

Charge of Contributing to Delinquency Of a Juvenile Mars Youngsters' Honeymoon

STOUFFVILLE, Ont., (BUP)—Bob St. Andrews, 18, married Nancy Prentice, 14, Tuesday, but a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a juvenile postponed their honeymoon.

The bride still wore her wedding dress as she did her Grade Eight homework last night.

Everyone in Stouffville appeared to be rooting for the newlyweds, including the officers who arrested St. Andrews Friday, one day before the wedding was scheduled.

The youthful truck driver has already spent three days in Toronto's Don Jail. A neighbor put up $1,000 bail and got him out in time for the wedding.

"All the neighbors have been coming in to visit us and congratulate us," his child bride said. "Even the police officers who arrested Bob came to wish us luck."

Their parents gave their consent weeks ago and the Rev. Gibson Brown, who performed the marriage ceremony, said he had decided "to make the best of it."

He described Nancy as "a fine girl" in his Sunday school, and KENORA, Ont. (BUP)—Police said that Mr. and Mrs. John Eszczuk were asphyxiated early today when their car went off the Carlton branch road near here.

Police said the couple's 11-year-old son, Stanley, and Mike Klavatz walked to a farm to get help. Unable to persuade a farmer that assistance was needed, they returned to the automobile where they, said the hurt man told them to go home, and he would be along shortly.

Klavatz and the son walked home, and called police when the boy's father and mother failed to arrive. Police said the couple had apparently been nearly unconscious from gasoline fumes when their son spoke to them, and they died shortly after he left.

U.S. Favors Mediation In China

United Nations To Intervene?

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he would like to see the United Nations try to arrange a cease fire between the Chinese Nationalists and Red China's attacking forces.

The president told a press conference that he does not know whether the UN would be able to do anything about halting the shooting, but he said he would like to see it use its good offices to seek a cease fire.

The president's remarks came atop a statement by Secretary of State Dulles Tuesday that the United States would offer no objections to the United Nations seeking a cease fire. Dulles' statement created a sensation in Formosa, stronghold of the Chinese Nationalists.

At the beginning of the conference Eisenhower discussed the military significance of the capture of Nationalist-held Hsiangshan, about eight miles northwest of the Tachens group by Communist amphibious forces.

He said that no military authority had rated this small island, or indeed the Tachens themselves, as an essential part of the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores. He noted that the United States is committed to the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores by the mutual security treaty which has been sent to the Senate for ratification.

The president said the Tachens Islands are of value as an outpost and an observation post but they are not a vital element, as the United States sees it, in the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores.

Woman Doomed by Rare Disease Hurries for Life to Mayo Clinic

By TONY DICKSON

Most people don't look forward to operations, but pretty 32-year-old Jacqueline Rose Schwabe definitely does.

Because for her it means a cure to physical and financial difficulties which have beset her family the past two years, which two operations, at St.

Joseph's here since last July have failed to locate.

In her attractive little home at 1923 Quamichan Street, "Jackie" as she prefers to be called today dangles her young, on her knee—another Jackie, 16 months old—and said "I was amazed. People have been wonderful."

She was speaking of personal friends and the Victoria Lions Club, which is endeavoring to raise $5,000 to meet the cost of past medical debts, and to take care of an operation scheduled soon at the famed Mayo brothers clinic at Rochester.

Local doctors advised her to go there. Nothing further could be done in Victoria.

A personal friend will pay transportation costs. "In the last two years it has cost us thousands of dollars," (Continued on Page 24)

Some 50 Royal Canadian Mounted Police and welfare workers raided the small ramshackle settlement at dawn and captured the children, who ranged in age from seven to 12.

The children were bundled into waiting school buses and taken to New Denver, 50 miles away, where they will be forced to attend school.

The round-up was the first big raid on this mountain-top settlement of the radical Russian religious Sons of Freedom sect and the largest ever made or a Freedomite centre since the drive began to force the children into school.

RCMP from Nelson, 20 miles away, were keeping a close watch on the community, considered the "capital" of the Freedomites, today for a possible outbreak of arson or nude parading in protest against the seizures.

(In Victoria, Attorney-General Robert Bonner said the raid was just a continuation of the government's policy to force Freedomite children into schools.)

The children are being cared for at a converted sanitarium at New Denver on the shores of Slooan Lake, about 50 miles from here.

The Freedomites, who claim that Canadian education leads to wars and strife, are blamed for recurring outbreaks of arson and nude parading that has plagued the Kootenay area in southeastern B.C. for more than 20 years.

Vancouver Situation Said 'Out of Hand'

OTTAWA (CP)—Senator W. Ross Macdonald, government leader in the Senate, announced today that a special Senate committee will be established at the present session to discuss illicit traffic in narcotics.

He made the announcement during the Senate throne speech, debate after Senator Thomas Reid (L-British Columbia) urged federal efforts to control the increasing use of narcotics in Canada. He said the narcotics situation "has got out of hand in the city of Vancouver."

Mr. Macdonald said the Senate committee will make a "complete investigation of this iniquitous illegal traffic in drugs and narcotics."

(Vancouver is reported to be one of the worst cities in the western hemisphere for drug addiction. Chief of Police Walter Mulligan has recently blamed considerable of the current crime wave on drugs.)

U.K. To Concentrate On Airpower Defense

Will Turn Back on Traditional Sea Power; Ground Forces to Get New Atomic Age Look

LONDON (UP)—Britain will turn its back on centuries of traditional naval power next month and acknowledge air power as its first line of defense, official sources said today.

The sources said the Royal Air Force, pioneer of war in the skies, at last will be recognized as the main element of defense in the 1955-56 arms blueprint due to be published in February.

The annual defense white paper will follow the lead of the United States and Britain's NATO partners in giving priority to air power and tactical atomic bombs, the sources said.

Informed sources also said Britain's far-flung ground forces will get an atomic age new look. Large contingents will come home from overseas peace-time history.)
